ERWIN DENIES STORY.

Declares He Made No Offer to Gaynor and Greene to Settle Case for Cash.

QUEBEC, July 18.—Today's proceedings in the Gaynor-Greene case consisted principally in the filing of affidavits. The proceedings were opened by Mr. Taschereau, counsel for the prisoners, who produced affidavits of Benjamin D. Greene to the effect that on May 17, Mr. Erwin called on him at the Windsor hotel, Montreal, and offered to settle the whole matter for $500,000. Greene replied that he could not stand that, because he had not money enough.

This affidavit was supported by another from Mrs. J. F. Gaynor.

An affidavit signed by Marion Erwin completely denies the allegations contained in the affidavits of Mr. Greene and Mrs. Gaynor. Mr. Erwin stated that on his return to the room in the Windsor on the afternoon of May 17 he found a note there in which he recognized the handwriting of B. D. Greene, which note was as follows:

"If you can call to see me at any time today you will do me a great favor."

The original of this note is in the possession of Mr. Erwin and was shown to Judge Caron.

HALF MILLION NEEDED WEEKLY FOR STRIKERS

President Mitchell's Recommendations Referred to Committee, Which Will Report Back to Convention This Morning.

DOLAN MAKES HARD FIGHT FOR PITTSBURGH DISTRICT

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Indianapolis, Ind., July 18.—The plans of President Mitchell and his associates for the anthracite strikers are taking definite form. Secretary Wilson says $500,000 a week is to be raised to support the anthracite strikers, but Mitchell is confident that new conditions will be responsible for a break favorable to the anthracite miners. The bituminous organization is to be depended on for $250,000 by assessment. The other $250,000 a week for the present is to be supplied from national, state and local treasuries, donations from other labor unions and the public.

The fact that the glass bottle workers, garment workers, iron molders, boot and shoe workers have already come forward, encourages miners' officials in the belief that other unions will be equally as prompt. It is understood that Mitchell has assurances of financial support that are not to be made public now.

The only question to be settled by the convention tomorrow is whether or not the assessment of bituminous miners shall be on percentage basis or $1 a week each, as President Mitchell has recommended.

Debate Has Been Closed.

The delegates are being held merely to ratify whatever action may be taken tomorrow at 10 by Mitchell and the presidents of the district organizations, as a motion was adopted at a closed session this afternoon closing the debate. During the day there was several hours' debate on recommendation of President Haskins of Ohio that a bituminous strike be included in the provisions for raising the defense fund. It seemed that this would carry, as many delegates spoke in favor of it, but at a closed session President Mitchell made a speech against it, and that was the finish. The recommendation was tabled by a vote nearly unanimous. The Mitchell recommendation would have carried this afternoon and the convention ended had he given the signal, but Secretary Wilson, one of his chief lieutenants, introduced an amendment providing no further action should be taken until a committee consisting of the national officers and presidents of the districts considered the matter. The officials seem about evenly divided tonight on the propositions for raising money among bituminous men, but it would not be surprising if Mitchell's recommendations are adopted straight through. He says he expects them to carry, although there may be a slight change.

Illinois Makes Donation.

An official of the Illinois delegation said tonight that Illinois, at a conference, had decided to come forward with a donation of $50,000 tomorrow for the anthracite strike. Illinois has $350,000 in its state treasury and about $500,000 among its locals. It is learned tonight that the national has less than $250,000 in its treasury now. The drain has been heavy during the last three months, owing to West Virginia, Hopkins county, Ky., and the Michigan strikes, and the assessment of 10 cents a month on each member, made by the last national convention, has not been sufficient to fill the breach. The bituminous miners probably have $1,000,000 at this time that can be used for the anthracite strike, and the disposition now is to place it at the disposal of Mitchell. The only question vexing Mitchell and his associates is how to provide for the bituminous strikes and raise a fund of $500,000 a week for the anthracite region.

Mitchell says that in making his recommendations he calculated the minimum cost of running the anthracite strike, so thus far he has made no other provisions. This matter will have to be settled before the adjournment of the convention tomorrow.

Dolan Makes a Speech.

This afternoon the Pittsburgh district received considerable attention and President Dolan made a long speech, telling of conditions there. During the convention today it was demanded that the strike on in Western Pennsylvania should be provided for the same as the anthracite strike. President Mitchell said the national organization, on request of Dolan, with the assurance that the strike could be won with $5,000, has advanced him that amount. Dolan replied that the district had not been cared for as it should have been.

One reason of the closed session was to take up Dolan's grievance. It is learned that, in addition to having received $5,000 from the national, Dolan has received $1,000 from Illinois and $1,000 from Ohio, and the strike is not near settled. Dolan declared in the closed session that there are 11,000 organized men in the Pittsburgh district, while there are over 70,000 unorganized. It is said tonight that arrangements are to be made before the close of the convention to strengthen the organization in the Pittsburgh district.

At the opening of the executive session, Vice-President Lewis took the floor and delivered an energetic speech on the amendment offered by Delegate Haskins in the morning to the effect that the fund to be raised in aid of the anthracite miners be extended to all striking miners whose strike has been sanctioned by the general organization.

Must Obey the Law.

He warned the convention that it would be necessary for the convention to so word its recommendations as to avoid the laws of Pennsylvania, which, he said, might cause trouble when an attempt should be made to collect the assessments of the men through the check offices, by bringing an injunction to restrain alleged conspiracy.

President Mitchell assured the convention that the strike in the Pittsburgh district and all other strikes would be looked after without splitting up the fund for the anthracite men, and again urged the men to dismiss from their minds all thought of a general strike. His remarks were greeted with enthusiastic cheers.

President Dolan of district No. 5, Pittsburgh, secured the floor to explain conditions in his district. He had said in the morning that his district had received insufficient aid, and President Mitchell rejoined that the Pittsburgh district had received from the national organization the exact sum which the officers of the

BYERS DEFEATS DR. FREDERICKS FOR GOLF GOAL

Victory Qualifies Him to Meet James Today for the Championship, and the Pittsburgher Is Favorite.

YALE FOR PENNSYLVANIAN, PRINCETON FOR CHICAGOAN

By J. N. PATTERSON,
Staff Correspondent.

Glenview Golf Club Course, Illinois, July 18.—Pittsburgh tomorrow will battle with Chicago for the golfing championship of the United States, with E. M. Byers of the Allegheny Country club pitted against Louis N. James of Glenview.

The last representative of the east, F. O. Reinhart of Baltusrol Golf club, New York, went down today before the Windy City lad, who now is the only obstacle between Byers and the title, while that sensational golfer of Oil City, Dr. D. P. Fredericks, was to give way before the irresistible City expert, who has forced his way the final match by the best of past the defeat of the old champion, Walter Travis.

Byers tonight is a prime favorite among expert followers of the game, though at this, his home club, there is nothing but enthusiastic shouting for James, even though the rooters themselves cannot point to performance on his part during the tournament which can approach the brilliant golf produced by Byers.

There is more than the meeting of Chicago and Pittsburgh in tomorrow's contest, for Yale and Princeton rooters will be on hand. Byers was Yale's champion, while James is to enter Princeton, and tonight the club house is echoing with the yells and songs of the rival alma maters and alumni. The college element has figured conspicuously in the present tournament.

The competition today offered golf under conditions that were as trying as they were amusing. When the ambitious contestants for the semi-final rounds reported, the Glenview course was found subject to the Chicago river, which made the playing of the second nine impossible. Byers was reluctant to proceed with play on only the first nine holes, which robbed him of much of the advantage of his home course. The play was finally started in the midst of a light rain, and Byers produced golf for his first nine holes out which, in the face of conditions, is considered almost as remarkable as his 35-stroke record for the second nine in defeating Travis. Forty-one strokes, one under bogey for a water-soaked course with miniature lakes on every hole, is the medal score which brought comment to the golfing talent and also to Fredericks' chances.

Comparison of the Play.

Byers' game was consistent throughout. Nothing else was won against the form which Fredericks developed for the remaining 36 match, and a comparison of played in the two semi-final contests today leaves no choice but Byers' championship tomorrow, even the comparative records for the tournament left out of the question. Neither the golf of James at any stage of the match approach the brilliancy displayed by Byers at times, or even that of Fredericks, who, during the greater part of the match, played golf which would hustle any champion to beat.

There is no underrating of James or the game he will play against Byers tomorrow. The Chicago lad played the nerviest kind of an uphill game to victory, being down during most of the time and only gaining the ascendency at the 12th hole in the afternoon, after losing his greatest lead of two holes at the 6 in the morning. He was 4 down at one point, and only won by 2 up and 1 to play, while Byers, against an infinitely faster game, won by 4 up and 3 to play, having been in the bad from the start of the match to the finish.

Nowhere in the tournament has James shown such remarkable form as Byers, but the Pittsburgher will play under one actual and one possible handicap. He plays the second nine holes to perfection, but tomorrow will be forced to play the entire match over the first half of the course, as today, on account of the flood. It was on the second nine that he defeated Travis, and he says tonight that the first nine robs him of the advantage of his game.

Advantage of Home Course.

Byers also has had a trying continuation match play the last two days, which makes another hard match doubly hard. James will play with the advantage of his home course, though this has not yet enabled him to approach Byers' record. He will have the encouragement also of the gallery rooting hard for the home player, but to a golfer of Byers' stolid nature this should not count for much. James is supposed to be a little the stronger driver, but Byers' long game is true, and the difference here cannot amount to much, while the Pittsburgh boy is the better approach player and can certainly not be beaten on putting when in form.

The all-day match between Byers and Fredericks furnished a beautiful contest. Fredericks was off his game for the first nine holes, and should never have closed 6 holes down for the first nine; but Fredericks came back on the second nine in sensational style and regained two of the holes, closing 4 down, with the confident declaration that he was not yet beaten. Byers had only lost two holes, taking 4 and halving the 28. Fredericks' golf for this round was scarcely less sensational than Byers' for the first, being one over bogey in 42, while his approach showed perfectly and his putting was deadly. He closed amidst a round of applause by jumping a stymie, halving the last hole.

Morning Play in Detail.

Dr. Fredericks and E. M. Byers were the first pair to start. Dr. Fredericks got off a beautiful drive, while Byers sliced into the rough. He was on the green on his third. Fredericks' third was over, in casual water, and it was Byers' hole, 5—6. Both used lofting irons on the green. "Both got good drives and approaches for the second and the hole was halved in four.

Third hole—Byers' third stopped two yards from the cup and up-hill putt, while Fredericks was five yards away. He missed a four-foot putt for a half; Byers 2 up.

Fourth hole—This went to Byers, 5—6. Fredericks was short on his third and over on his fourth. Byers was within a yard of the cup on his third, but missed the putt.

Fifth hole—Fredericks pulled his drive into the rough and took four to reach the green. The hole was Byers' 4—5.

Sixth hole—This hole also went to the Pittsburgher, 5—7. Fredericks took one

All members of the party are enjoying excellent health and are eager to embark tomorrow morning for the trip across the North sea, or German ocean, to Antwerp, where we will arrive on Sunday.

Yesterday the party visited Windsor castle, the favorite seat of the sovereigns of Great Britain, and spent the entire day feasting on the scenes of rich historic lore that had their inception with the Saxon kings and were given their more brilliant colorings by William the Conqueror, who founded Windsor castle.

We saw the vaults where rest the sovereigns of the past; the state apartments, with their rich paintings and rare presents from the world's royalty; St. George's chapel, the official house of worship of the Knights of the Garter, all of which are profusely decorated and filled with pictures, statuary, bronze monuments and other works of ancient and modern art.

EARLY SOLUTION IS EXPECTED IN FRIAR DISPUTE

Vatican Pleased Over Latest Note from America.

GOVERNOR TAFT IS COMPLIMENTED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Rome, July 18.—The following note from the vatican was presented to Gov. Taft of the Philippines tonight:

"I hasten to acknowledge the receipt of the letter by which you kindly communicated to me the cablegram from Secretary Root answering my note of July 9, which explained the counter project of the vatican for the regulation of religious affairs in the Philippines.

"While thanking you for this important communication, I am happy to assure you that the holy see has learned with the liveliest satisfaction the high consideration in which Mr. Root, in the name of the government of the United States, holds the fitness of the measures which the vatican, independently of the solution of any economic question, designed taking to ameliorate the religious situation in the archipelago and to cooperate in the pacification of the people under American sovereignty.

"The measures are indicated in my memorandum of June 21 and my letter of July 9. These declarations of Mr. Root do honor to the deep political wisdom of the government of the United States, which knows how to appreciate the happy influence of the holy see for the religious and civil elevation of the people, especially Catholics.

"With equal satisfaction, the pontiff has taken into account the assurances of Secretary Root that the American authorities in the Philippines and at Washington will put forth all possible efforts to maintain the good understanding happily established with the authorities of the Catholic church. On his part the pontiff will not fail to give the apostolic delegate soon to be sent to the Philippines the most precise instructions according to my former notes.

"The main lines for future negotiations, indicated in the notes, having been accepted by Secretary Root, the representative of the vatican in the archipelago will enter into relations with the authorities in the Philippines on the four points indicated by Mr. Root at the end of his cablegram.

"The holy see does not doubt that mutual confidence, combined with the action of its representative and that of the American government, will easily produce a happy solution of the pending question, inaugurating for that noble country a new era of peace and true progress.

"It is my agreeable duty in ending this letter to be able to render homage to the very great courtesy and high capacity with which you have filled the delicate mission which the government and president of the United States confided to you. Willingly I add that the favorable result of the negotiations must be attributed in very large part to your high personal qualities.

"While flattering myself that this first success will be a guarantee of the happy issue of ulterior negotiations in Manila, I have the honor to be, etc.

(Signed.) "RAMPOLLA."

Gov. Taft was informed tonight that the pope had fixed July 21 for his farewell audience.

LONDON, July 19.—The Rome correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says the pope is intensely displeased at the way in which the commission of cardinals has conducted the negotiations with Judge Taft in the matter of the friars in the Philippines. "I learn from an authoritative source," says the correspondent, "that besides annulling the procedure of the commission of cardinals, the pope has summarily dissolved it, expressing his view that the American demands were reasonable and signifying his readiness to treat with Judge Taft personally.

reach the green, while Byers' brassie third was well up the slope.

Seventh hole—This was halved in bogey 5.

Eighth hole—Byers topped his brassie second, his first misplay, but daringly played a long brassy third over the pond. The hole was halved, 6—6.

Ninth hole—Fredericks' drive found the pond and the hole went to Byers, 4—6. Byers 6 up at the turn.

Fredericks Does Good Work.

At the end of the ninth hole of play Byers was 6 up on his rival. Dr. Fredericks having made a runaway race of it by reason of his better approach and green work. Fredericks did not seem to be able to keep away from trouble and casual water.

The tenth was halved in five, the eleventh in four and the twelfth in five. Fredericks won the thirteenth, the first of the game, with a pretty four, Byers took five, scaffing his second, a long iron shot. Both missed 10-foot putts on the fourteenth, and the hole was halved in five. Byers dubbed his brassey second for the fourteenth and sliced his third. Fredericks was stymied and only succeeded in halving the hole. The sixteenth was halved in three. Fredericks took the seventeenth in five, good work on the green. The eighteenth was halved in four, Fredericks pumping his ball over a stymie and holding it, Byers 4 up at end of morning play.

The Afternoon Play.

Fredericks continued his fast pace to the afternoon. His medal score was 41, equal to Byers' performance, though on an improved course. Fredericks caused a wave of excitement by taking three straight holes from Byers after being six down at the 23, halving a 20-foot putt for one. Byers' lead was too much even for the nervy doctor, however, and the match ended on the 33 hole halved in five by the most remarkable putt of the tournament by Fredericks. The doctor ran the ball down 40 feet from the cup. Byers closed with the morning lead, having taken three and lost three and halved nine during the afternoon. It was very even golf, with medal scores of 72 for Byers and 71 for Fredericks. On the seven hole Byers knocked his opponent's ball in from lip of cup for a two.

A remarkable feature of Louis James' participation in the final is the fact that he was tied among 13 golfers for the last position in qualifying, and only got in by a belt of his teeth. He has defeated Jim Bolton 6 up and 5 to play, L. H. Smith by 12 up, Ralph McKittrick by 5 up to play and Phelps S. Hoyt, the Penn champion, by 3 and 2 to play. The medal scores follow:

NEW CONCERN WILL DELIVER THE ICE

Thirteen Producing Companies Have Formed a New Selling Agency.

Thirteen of the producing ice companies of Pittsburgh and vicinity were represented at the office of A. W. Duff, in the Bakewell law building, yesterday afternoon, which decided on a basis of creating a new selling agency company, to handle the product of all. The new company will be the Union Ice Company of Pittsburgh. It will purchase the product of the producers and deliver it to consumers. This will result in an economy to the interests concerned, and while for consumers there is no promise of cheaper ice, neither will it cost more, the promoters say.

All the producing companies will be stockholders in the new Union Ice Company, and capitalization which will cover the delivery equipment and necessary working capital. The capitalization, W. Duff said yesterday evening, has not been determined upon. The company will operate under a New Jersey charter.

Another meeting will be held early next week, probably on Monday, which is to complete the organization and arrange other details. Those in interest say there is no question as to the scheme being carried out.

While the present producing companies will profit according to their share in the new selling agency company, each will avoid the needless expense of delivering ice over the same territory that a competitor reaches. In Wilkinsburg borough, as an instance, six companies are supplying the consuming trade and the deliveries made by will in a short time be made by one interest.

THE WEATHER.

Rain.

Today will be one of those "bargain umbrella days," when the shops haul out dust-worn rain protectors and label them "for sale cheap." The forecast is for showers, and slightly cooler weather. Yesterday was an extremely sultry day, and the showers that fell last night served to reduce the temperature considerably. The maximum yesterday was 85. The following is the record of The Gazette's weather service thermometers at Kaufmann's counter:

12 noon ..... 78 degrees 8 p. m. ..... 78 degrees

PRECAUTIONS WERE USELESS IN MILL MINE

Inspector Evans Gives Coroner Points in Favor of the Company.

UNUSUAL CARE IS TAKEN

The Explosion Itself, Which Liberated the After-Damp, So Weak That It Did Little Damage to the Doors. Plenty of Air.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Johnstown, Pa., July 18.—As a result of the visit of Coroner Miller and his jury to the scene of the Cambria Rolling Mill mine disaster of last week, Mine Inspector Josiah T. Evans, who with other mine officials accompanied the coroner, has filed these points with the jury:

First—That the explosion which released the deadly afterdamp was so weak as not to have shattered a single one of the doors which confined, and hence intensified, its initial impact energy within 200 feet of where the actual detonation occurred. Door after door to which Mr. Evans directed attention required very little repairs. In addition, the mine inspector showed that beyond thick layers of dust, which covered everything, and shale and the slack of friable coal, the explosion had not blown down anything nor in any way changed the topography of the mine.

Second—That the explosion occurred during the progress of operations having no other purpose than to insure the safety of the miners by giving the air currents free access to gas gathered over "falls" in the mine.

Only Safety Lamps Used.

Third—That the explosion occurred despite the use of only safety lamps in the fatal section; despite the most stringent rules concerning the keeping of the lamps locked, the leaving behind of all matches, match boxes, pipes, cigars, etc., and the use of all possible precaution while in the dangerous section. In answer to questions from the jurors, Mr. Evans, aided by Fire Bosses Powell and Retallack, explained how the idea of danger, involved in the word "gas" written on boards placed at the entrances to the affected headings and rooms, was conveyed to the foreigners who cannot understand English by placing the boards so as to catch every miner about the knees, and thus direct his attention to the situation.

Fourth—That in its arrangements to furnish an abundance of pure air to the men in the mine, the Cambria Steel Company had done all that human skill, foresight and sympathy could suggest, at the expenditure of large amounts of money, to prevent just such a catastrophe as that which made of the Klondike region a tomb.

Guided Through Many Galleries.

In the demonstration of this subject Mr. Evans took the party on a wonderful trip into the main shaft near the Mill creek entrance over the "over-cast," and then through many a winding and devious gallery, where there poured life-giving currents of air at the rate of 80,000 cubic feet a minute.

Fifth—Concomitant to a thorough exposition of the processes and agencies for keeping the air in the Klondike as nearly pure as possible, Mr. Evans showed that the explosion, by blowing certain doors open, spread the work of death by throwing the currents of air directly behind the afterdamp and thus pushing the terrible gas toward the miners who, in trying to reach fresh air, ran to their own doom. It was explained that the first aim of the rescuers was to close all the opened doors and thus confine the afterdamp to certain chambers in which were not huddled the dying men.

Treasurer W. C. Lewis, in charge of the relief fund, reports $1,599.36 in his hands.

Henry James Rogers, son of Foreman Henry L. Rogers, who was "trapping" in the Klondike district when the explosion happened, has returned to work. Henry James is 15 years of age and got out of the Klondike district before the afterdamp reached his door, but when he heard his father had gone in to help rescue the miners, the lad started back and was almost overcome himself. Mr. Rogers, who had a narrow escape, is slowly recovering.

YOUR OLD PIANO.

Perhaps You Would Like to Exchange It for a New One—Hamilton's Invite You.

Persons who own pianos that do not give satisfaction should call at Hamilton's and find out how much they can gain by exchanging their present instruments for others that are thoroughly up to date. A piano that is unsatisfactory is always an expense, and the sooner you get rid of it the better for all concerned. So make up your mind that you'll visit Hamilton's without delay. Whether you make a purchase or not, it will be decidedly to your advantage to see the magnificent stock carried by this old reliable house.

Here you'll see the very best piano that the world has yet produced. It is the A. B. Chase, which is so much more artistic than the next best instrument as to entitle the A. B. Chase to the distinction of being in a class by itself. It is the realization of tonal beauty—an art piano for artists.

There are various other pianos that are really meritorious, and you may rest assured that the foremost of these are also at Hamilton's, but there can be no doubt in the mind of any unprejudiced person that the A. B. Chase is THE piano for those who are determined to have the one which excels all others in artistic qualities.

A great many persons prefer the J. & C. Fischer piano to any other on account of the Fischer's brilliant quality, and the truth is that the Fischer stands supremely alone in this particular. There is a brilliance about the Fischer that is not only a delight, but it simply captivates those music-lovers who enjoy music that is full of color and the various flourishes of technique. Over 110,000 Fischers are now in use, and the demand is so great at the present time that the Fischer's fame is spreading everywhere.

It is always a pleasure to call attention to the Schumann piano, for this exquisite instrument is emphatically the best piano on the market selling at a moderate price. You must admit this fact if you take the trouble to make comparisons. Various pianos selling for from $100 to $200 more than the Schumann are in nowise its equal.

Prices of the better grade instruments at Hamilton's range from $200 upward, and you can buy these meritorious instruments here for even less. No difference what you wish to pay, you will find a piano at Hamilton's to please you in price and in every other respect. The Smith and Barnes and the Hamilton pianos have a well-earned reputation for merit, and the moderate price at which each sells causes these makes to attract the attention of thousands who do not care to pay the higher prices of some of the others.

Call at any time and do not fail to inquire what you will be allowed on your old piano in case you contemplate the purchase of a new one. Catalogues are free—send for one.

WHAT YATES SAYS ABOUT AN ALLIANCE

STATEMENT FROM PRESIDENT OF THE B., R. & P.

No New Arrangement Made With New York Central and the Reading—What New Low Grade Road Between Clearfield and Keating Accomplishes.

In answer to a telegram from The Gazette, President Arthur G. Yates of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railway makes the following statement upon the reported alliance of that road, the New York Central and the Reading, to form a new route for through freight and passenger trains from Pittsburgh and Buffalo to Philadelphia and New York:

"There has been no new arrangements made between our company, the line that has been doing business the past two years, the New York Central and the Reading in regard to the movement of business, through freight, passengers, etc., from Pittsburgh and Buffalo to Philadelphia and New York; but a new line of road has been finished during the past week connecting the Philadelphia & Reading railway with the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railway, and owned by the New York Central & Hudson River railway, which will enable traffic to be promptly handled between the two points, New York and Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. Our line in connection with the New York Central, Pennsylvania division, the Reading and the Jersey Central, affords a through line for all kinds of business."

The new line to which Mr. Yates refers is the low-grade road between Clearfield and Keating. This gives the New York Central an entrance into valuable soft coal fields and at the same time, by connection with the Philadelphia & Erie division of the Pennsylvania, gives a better route to Williamsport than the line of the Beech Creek.

The series of rumors that have arisen in regard to this alliance seem to be based upon a joint inspection of this new line by the presidents of the railroads interested.

The only new arrangement that could be made in this way would be the running of through passenger and freight trains between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia and New York. Ever since the completion of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh it has been a potential line, but on account of the lack of through trains and connections, as well as the inferiority of the track on the Beech Creek, has never been used for passenger business.

Another fact that has thrown doubt on the reports from the first is the reported control of the Reading system passing to the Baltimore & Ohio for the Pennsylvania. No public evidence, other than the purchase of unusual amounts of stock in the open market, has been given of this change, but until good proof of its untruth is given there is a strong tendency to think that the Reading will soon be a part of the Baltimore & Ohio.

In that case it is thought absurd to think of the Baltimore & Ohio entering by means of the Reading into an arrangement that gives it only half of the haul to compete with its present through line.

WAS MARRIED MAN.

WASHINGTON, PA., July 18.—(Special.)—The news of the tragic death of John Thomas and the illness of Maggie Canan from the attempted murder on the part of Thomas, alias John Smith, at Columbus, O., created quite a sensation here. Both are well known in this section. Thomas was married and last spring made himself notorious by attempting to commit suicide by taking carbolic acid while in company with a young woman on the outskirts of the town. Thomas was married last December to Annie Dick, but it is understood that his married life was not a happy one. The young man's father is an employe of the South Penn Oil Company.

Miss Canan had known Thomas for some time. She has always borne a good reputation here. The man had told the Canan girl that his name was Smith, and he was so known by the parents of the girl. Thomas had been calling on the Canan girl for some time.

Thursday morning, finding the girl's room empty, her parents made a search and found a note that the girl had written, stating that she had gone to get married and would write to them Sunday. The first information Mr. and Mrs. Canan had that Thomas' name was not Smith was after the girl had eloped with him. The girl's uncle, Reed Canan, left today for Columbus to bring her home.

Barr Is Brought Back.

Emmett Barr was brought back from Racine, O., yesterday by County Detective Robert G. Robinson and Detective William Elmore and lodged in jail on the charge of conspiracy. Miss Edith Bell of Knoxville charges that Barr and H. E. Walters conspired together to obtain, and did obtain from her, about $2,000 by false pretense. Walters is out on bail. The grand jury has presented a true bill against both men.

district had said would be necessary to win the district.

When Mr. Dolan had concluded several delegates made short speeches, asking the convention to hasten matters. A vote was then taken on the Haskins amendment and it was voted down by a decisive majority.

This left before the convention the original motion for the adoption of the recommendations of the president. A number of amendments were then offered, all relating to the manner in which the assessment should be made.

Shut Off the Amendments.

These were all pending when Secretary Wilson offered an amendment that the matter be referred to a committee consisting of ten of the highest officers of the national organization, and the presidents of the districts represented in the convention. This prevailed and an adjournment was taken until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

The report of the committee on credentials announced this morning that there were 2,253 voters in the convention.

The convention then took up the question of adopting the recommendations of the president.

Several long speeches, which were not to the point under discussion, provoked a motion that all speeches should be restricted to five minutes. Delegate Fitzpatrick, who made the radical speech of yesterday, shouted from the gallery:

"Oh, if you want to railroad this thing through, railroad it."

President Mitchell offered to recognize Mr. Fitzpatrick, but the latter replied, in a disgusted tone:

"Oh, I don't want the floor. What's the use."

The committee remained in session until midnight when it adjourned without completing its work. It will reconvene at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. It is practically certain that the committee will urge the adoption of the recommendations of President Mitchell and the levying upon the members of the union of an arbitrary assessment of $1 per week where there is no check office and 10 per cent in localities where there is a check office. It was also decided to use all the funds to be raised for the strikers in the anthracite district.

LAUGHED TOO SOON.

John Smith's Smile Made Detective James W. Eagan Look Over Rogues' Gallery.

One of the three supposed pickpockets arrested on Thursday by Detectives James W. Eagan and Bernard McStay was identified yesterday. The men were arrested at Hays station while working the crowds going to and returning from the orphans' picnic in Calhoun park. As the arrest was made outside the city limits Magistrate Bernard McKenna could not act, and therefore an information was made before Alderman James V. McMasters, charging the men with being suspicious persons, and they were sent to jail. They gave the names of John Smith, Cleveland; "Joe" Kelly, Canton, O., and "Joe" Healy, New York.

After arresting the men Detective Eagan talked with them a long time. John Smith told Eagan that he would never get "onto" him, meaning that if he had ever "done time" Eagan would not be able to learn it. Smith laughed heartily as he said this, and Eagan thought he had seen that smile before.

Returning home he went to his private rogues' gallery, said to be the largest private collection of criminals' faces in the country. Looking over the pictures, Eagan came to the photograph of a criminal which he procured when he was a detective in Chicago, and he recognized the face as that of John Smith. He brought the picture to Superintendent Demmel, of the detective bureau, and Demmel and every detective on the force immediately pronounced it a photograph of John Smith.

In Eagan's picture Smith is of course much younger, as it was taken 19 years ago; he has grown grizzled and gray since then. Smith is not his name, for on the back of Eagan's picture he is recorded as "T. J. Wilson, alias 'Little Jeff,' alias 'Joe' Shearns, sentenced to the Chester, Ill., penitentiary in 1883, five years, for murder; sentenced to the same penitentiary in 1886 for burglary, and sentenced to the Opelika, Ala., penitentiary in 1892, escaped from there and rearrested in Chicago."

Pictures of Smith's two pals and of Smith himself have been prepared here and Superintendent Demmel sent them yesterday to other cities to have if the men are not wanted elsewhere for some crime.

KING ORDERS CORONATION.

Rehearsals Have Begun for Crowning of Edward VII. August 9.

LONDON, July 18.—An official notification was issued this morning that, by the king's command, the coronation of King Edward and Queen Alexandra will take place August 9.

Rehearsals of the procession from Buckingham palace to Westminster abbey took place this morning, and the officials of the various state departments concerned in the abbey ceremony are again busy with preparations for the crowning.

BUT ONE DEATH FROM THE HEAT

LOWER TEMPERATURE RESULTED IN FEWER PROSTRATIONS.

Temperature Only Reached 85 and Rain in the Evening Brought Some Relief from Sultriness—Shower Caused Several Small Floods.

Yesterday was an extremely sultry day, despite the fact that it was not unusually hot. The temperature reached 85. Quite a relief from the dull, heavy day came at night with a brisk shower, followed by a steady rain. There are to be more showers today and tomorrow. The temperature continued even until after noon, when it went up a few degrees. There was but few deaths from heat and fewer prostrations than yesterday. The following were reported:

The police picked up an unknown man about 6 o'clock last evening, suffering from heat prostration at Forty-ninth street. He was taken to St. Francis hospital and the physicians say there is little hope of his recovering. He is thought to be a foreigner. Several other prostrations were reported yesterday.

The heavy rain last night caused considerable trouble for the Pittsburgh Railways Company by overflowing sewers in various parts of their lines. In Hazelwood and all along the Second avenue line the cars got through big pools of water with great difficulty.

FLYING TRAPEZE ACTS.

Unique Feature Promised Those Who Attended the Pittsburgh Exposition This Year.

A feature absolutely unique in the history of the Pittsburgh exposition will be performances by trapeze artists and aerialists in the main building, between the band and orchestra concerts. Correspondence is now being carried on with some experts in this line and contracts will be entered into for daily appearances at the exposition, which is to be opened on the night of Wednesday, September 3.

Three musical attractions have already been decided on. Sousa and his band for the first two weeks; then the famous Fadette's woman's orchestra, 50 strong, for one week, with Walter Damrosch and then Philharmonic orchestra of New York for the closing two weeks. Ten days still remain open, and it seems likely that in this period exposition patrons will be introduced to a new band leader who has created unheard-of sensations in the west.

His name is "Creatore," and most lavish are the notices rewarding his achievements in California, Nebraska, Iowa, Washington and Minnesota. His methods of conducting are said to be original in the extreme, while his musicianship is praised in glowing superlatives. Manager T. J. Fitzpatrick will hear "Creatore" and his band in Philadelphia next Wednesday, and if only one-fourth of what has been published concerning the newcomer's merits is true, it is almost certain he will be engaged.

MISSIONARIES ATTACKED.

Methodist Preachers Badly Used by Japanese Coolies in Korea—A Bishop Among the Injured.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 18.—An account has reached here of an assault committed upon some Methodist missionaries in Korea about the 15th of last month. As Bishop Moore of the Methodist Episcopal church was en route to Soowon to dedicate a church, his party was attacked by Japanese coolies, who were building a railroad. With the bishop were his young daughters and Messrs. Appenzller and Swearer, and all of the party suffered. The bishop's pith helmet saved his skull from a crushing blow; Appenzller was struck down by a blow from a club, and Swearer, the other missionary, was struck with a piece of cordwood which gashed his head across the forehead to the bone and may have permanently injured one eye.

The Japanese minister at Seoul immediately put in motion all the machinery at his command to secure the capture and punishment of the assailants. It does not appear that any racial feeling caused the attack.

VETERANS ELECT OFFICERS.

Eight Ohio Regiment Closes Reunion Near Canton.

CANTON, O., July 18.—(Special.)—The old Eighth Ohio regiment (McKinley's Own) concluded a two days' reunion at Meyers Lake tonight, with a largely attended military ball. Bad weather prevailed all day, and the boys had to keep under cover. These officers were elected: Commander, William F. Hanley, East Liverpool; lieutenant commander, Maj. F. B. Weybrecht, Alliance; adjutant, Fred Oescham, East Liverpool; quartermaster, K. W. Taylor, Salem.

It was decided to permanently organize under the name of the Eighth regiment, O. V. I. Association of Spanish War Veterans. The next reunion will be held at East Liverpool.

THE DETECTIVES AT WORK

Capt. Reynolds Adheres to the Burglar Theory, Though He Has Men Out Watching for Other Clews. Hopes for Results Soon.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 18.—Though there are mysterious hints of future sensational developments and aspersions on the characters of those whose guilt they do not feel justified in asserting, there will practically be few new facts made known regarding the murder of Albert C. Latimer, who was fatally shot in his home more than two weeks ago.

Tired of what they regard as attacks upon her character made by the police, friends of Mrs. Latimer have rallied to her support and will defend her against future attacks of the same kind. Capt. Reynolds insisted this afternoon that no progress had been made in the direction of clearing the mystery that surrounds the murder of Mr. Latimer. He confessed that his skill as a detective had thus far been baffled, though he expressed the hope that some development would bring about desired results.

"I have no theory other than that of burglary," said the captain of the Brooklyn detective bureau. "For two weeks I have had six of the most expert detectives on this case, and the developments bring them back to the fact that Mr. Latimer was shot by an intruder who was probably a professional burglar. Two of my men are attempting to develop the burglary theory. If our are free to follow any clew that presents itself.

"I had hoped that the tragedy would be explained before this, but when I tell you that all of the evidence now in my possession was developed within two days after the shooting occurred, you will understand the obstacles that have been encountered. Still, I would not be surprised if my men should bring in the murderer of Mr. Latimer this afternoon or tomorrow.

"By that I do not mean that I have anything to indicate that the chase is nearing a conclusion. I simply mean that everything possible is being done and it naturally follows that no mistakes can be made. I regret that the impression has been created that I have so far doubted the burglary theory as to direct suspicion upon any friend of the Latimer family. I cannot escape from the fact that the murderer left behind him articles which must have belonged to a professional."

"It is the same old police trick of throwing suspicion upon an innocent person and then escaping censure for failure by declaring that the family dare not tell the whole truth." That is the manner in which counsel for Mrs. Latimer refers to the work done by the officers.

WOULD CUT WAGE SCALE TO GET BIG CONTRACT

Tin Workers Asked to Allow 25 Per Cent Reduction to Win Standard Oil Order.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ANDERSON, IND., July 18.—Tinplate workers tonight confirmed a report that they have been asked by the American Tinplate Company to allow their wages to be reduced 25 per cent so that the company may accept an order from the Standard Oil Company for 1,500,000 boxes of American tinplate.

The same question is before all the tinplate workers throughout the country and especially those under the scale of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers. They will decide on the proposition by vote the coming week.

By taking the Standard's annual contract the American Tinplate Company would get the last of the big American buyers of tin from Wales. It is also asserted that it would insure steady operation of the American mills the year round.

THE MOTORMAN JUMPED.

Mail Carrier's Move Averted Street Car Wreck.

Library street, Braddock, came very near being the scene of a street car wreck last night at 6 o'clock. A heavily laden car started up the street, which is a steep hill, and when above the Pennsylvania railroad bridge the motorman was called upon to stop the car. Instead of holding the car with the brake until he applied the power, he let off the brake and the car started backward. Losing his head the motorman jumped and the car dashed down the steep grade.

Every man was off the car before it had run a square. Down it went under the bridge, the conductor holding four women to prevent them from jumping. They were the only persons on the car. All were screaming.

As the car approached the postoffice a mail carrier heard the screams. He at once saw what was the matter, and as the car dashed by, caught the hand rail and got aboard. He jammed on the brake, and putting on the power, stopped the car on the curve at Braddock avenue just as it was about to crash into a car coming around the corner.

POLICE ARE MYSTIFIED.

Man Who Spent Night in Allegheny Police Station Dying in Hospital.

The Allegheny police are mystified over the manner in which a man, supposed to be John Haway, received injuries from which he is dying at the Allegheny General hospital. The man was found lying on Vidal street, Allegheny, apparently dead drunk on Saturday last at 2 p. m. and was taken to Central station and locked up on a charge of drunkenness.

On Sunday morning he had not regained consciousness, and was sent to the Allegheny general hospital. He was bleeding from the right ear and there was an abrasion on his right elbow. These were the only visible injuries found on his body.

He has not regained consciousness and the hospital authorities think he cannot live through the night. He is about 45 years old, and $8.50 in his pockets when found. The police are making every effort to clear up the mystery.

LAURA BIGGAR WINS A VICTORY

HEIRS ALLOW HENRY M. BENNETT'S WILL TO BE PROBATED.

The Actress Receives Annuity of $1,800 Besides 60 Per Cent of His Pittsburgh Stock and a House and Lot in New York.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., July 18.—(Special.)—The heirs of Henry M. Bennett of Pittsburgh, who died recently at Farmingdale, decided this afternoon to allow the will to be admitted to probate, which is a victory for Miss Laura Biggar, the actress, of New York, the largest beneficiary under the will.

The case was resumed before Judge Helsley this morning. Samuel C. Bennett, a nephew of the deceased, who lives near Boston, was questioned concerning the relations of the deceased. Counsel afterward announced that negotiations were under way for a settlement. The court then adjourned until 2 o'clock.

The court was called at 3 o'clock, when counsel for the Bennett heirs said he and his colleagues would allow the will to be probated.

By the provisions of the will, Miss Biggar will receive $1,000 in 10 days, and $1,800 annually as long as she lives. She is also bequeathed 60 per cent of his Pittsburgh stock and a house and lot in New York. The estate is said to be worth $1,000,000.

When shown the above story from Long Branch last night, James W. Platt, one of the executors of the will of Henry M. Bennett, stated that, although he had not been informed as to the details, he understood a settlement had been made between Miss Biggar and the other heirs.

His knowledge came in the form of a telegram last night from P. J. McNulty, one of the beneficiaries of the will at present in Long Branch. The telegram contained only these words, "Will has been admitted to probate." Mr. Platt expects Mr. McNulty will return to Pittsburgh this morning.

DOCTOR DROPPED DEAD.

James Barr of Mars Died While Visiting Patient in De Haven.

Dr. James Barr, a prominent physician of Butler county, died suddenly in De Haven yesterday, while visiting a patient. Dr. Barr had come down from Mars, his home, to De Haven to attend to some patients. At 6 o'clock in the evening he went to the house of Walter Grubbs, and had barely inquired after the health of a patient in the house, when he dropped to the floor dead. A physician was immediately sent for, but was too late to be of assistance.

Dr. Barr was a brother of Dr. Martin A. Barr of Lawrenceville. He was 35 years old. His wife was Miss Lulu Campbell of Lawrenceville and he is survived by her and two children, 4 and 8 years old.

The news of his death was telephoned to the husband of his wife's sister, James Laughrey, the deputy coroner. Mr. Laughrey was at the morgue when the news came. From De Haven it was learned that it was the intention to take Dr. Barr's body to Mars on the 10:20 train. As the death was sudden and had occurred in Allegheny county, it was necessary for the coroner or a deputy to view the corpse before it could be removed. That the body might be sent on the train, Coroner McCarry and Deputy Laughrey went to Sharpsburg and drove over to De Haven in a carriage.

CHAUTAUQUA.

Dr. Vincent's Panegyric of New Woman Meets Unexpected Response.

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., July 18.—(Special.)—This is woman's day at Chautauqua and prominent clubwomen from all over the country are present. The address this afternoon was delivered by Mrs. James Hughes of Toronto, being introduced by Dr. George Vincent. It is a general sentiment here that Mr. Vincent always says the right thing in the right place, but this time he reckoned without his host.

"We have today," he said, "a different type of woman from that 40 years ago. We all love and respect the old-fashioned, domestic mother and bow in reverence to her; but with changing conditions come new ideas, and the old-fashioned mother is out of date. Her time was occupied with petty home duties that allowed her no time for intellectual improvement, and she became narrow in her opinions. The new woman has a margin of leisure. To the old-fashioned mother we bid an affectionate and appreciative farewell, and welcome the new woman."

There was something of a stir in the audience when Mrs. Hughes began in a very emphatic tone:

"All that is good and noble in humanity is due to these old-fashioned, domestic mothers. Our boys and girls would grow to be better men and women if there were more such mothers, if the mothers of this age would withdraw from public life, from the flimsy, silly, social world and live with their children while they are small. It is worth while to give up 10, 12 or 15 years when, by staying at home, we can send out into the world, pure, honest and true men and women.

"It is the most erroneous idea in the world to suppose that society would be revolutionized and harmonized by giving women the right to vote. Some would vote fairly and honestly, but they must be educated up to it, and they, as men, would be influenced by stronger minds than their own."

Insanity Due to Nervous and Mental Troubles.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

The Great Tower of Safety and Rock of Health in the Hot Weather.

Nervous diseases, when aggravated by mental disturbances, produce more causes of insanity in the hot weather than at any other season of the year. Nervous headache, nervous dyspepsia, sleeplessness and chronic constipation induce depression of spirits, extreme weakness, morbid fears, despondency and languor; from these dread insanity comes slowly but surely.

Nervous sufferers have a dread of hot weather. Finding themselves deeper in the pit of misery than they were in the spring and early summer, they are in utter despair.

There is hope for you, dear reader, if you are one of the sufferers. You stand in need of Paine's Celery Compound, that great builder of the nervous system. Its vitalizing action commences with the first bottle you use. The volume of blood immediately increases in the arteries, and the body is fully fed and nourished. Your appetite becomes regular and natural, the nerves and brain are strengthened and you have impulses of health that cheer the soul.

TROOPS BREAKING CAMP

The Homeward Trip Has Begun and the Gettysburg Battlefield Will Be Deserted Today—Guardsmen Are Complimented by Gov. Stone.

By ROBERT WRAY,
Staff Correspondent.

Camp Meade, Gettysburg, July 18.—With the rising of tomorrow's sun this camp will be left to the heroes of the rebellion who sleep here beneath the sod. The Second brigade, the representatives of the western end of the state, started the migration early this evening. The entire brigade, including Battery B, had gone spinning westward before midnight. Early in the morning the Third and First regiments are to leave, and the encampment of 1902 will be a thing of the past.

The presence of Secretary Root and Adjt. Gen. Corbin here today made the reviews already held pale into insignificance. Greeted with the usual booming of the cannon and the flashing of cavalry sabers the distinguished party from Washington had a conflicuous reception from the time of their arrival until the special train bearing them back home pulled out this evening. They had seen all there was to be seen of Gettysburg, had watched 10,000 young men of the state pass by them in review and had been entertained by the governor. In addition to what they saw in the militia they had a chance to witness some of the regular army troops pass by in heavy marching order, and Gen. Leonard Wood, himself a cavalry man, had the satisfaction of inspecting two regular troops and one battery in the ordinary field camp. It was his first visit to this historic battlefield and it was his first appearance in the role of an inspecting officer since he gave over the reins of Cuban government to President Palma.

Capt. Jones Commanded Escort.

Capt. Jones of Sheridan troop commanded the cavalry escort to the visitors. He met them at the station with two troops and led the way through the town to the division headquarters. As the procession came in sight, Battery B, after a four-mile march from its own camp, boomed away with the 17-gun salute which is allotted to the secretary of war. Governor Stone was in waiting for the Washington party when they came to the headquarters, while Mrs. Stone looked after the reception of the ladies. All sat down to luncheon and at 2 o'clock the horses and orderlies were ready for the ride over to the reviewing ground.

The review was a simple one. There was no trooping of the line and the members of the guard simply marched past the reviewing party and then doublequicked to their camps. The Second brigade was the second to pass and once they were past the reviewing officers, colonels hustled their men to camps in order that the baggage could be packed ready for the leaving of the troop trains. Col. Richardson had impressed upon everybody's mind the idea of being prompt in leaving, and there was none of the Second brigade that disobeyed this order. All were on time for the trains and the long lines of coaches and Pullman cars pulled out on schedule time.

The time of arrival in Pittsburgh cannot be told from this end, but all of the regiments will get home some time tomorrow afternoon. Battery B did not leave until near midnight, and it will be the last one in. Capt. Reese expects to reach home about 6 o'clock tomorrow evening.

Complimented By Gov. Stone.

The only drilling that was done today was by the division hospital corps under the command of Weaver. The entire guard was inspected near division headquarters. The inspection was closely watched by Capt. Reynolds of the regular army. He was especially profuse in his praise for the corps of the Eighteenth regiment and complimented them very highly to Dr. C. C. Wylie, the major commanding. The drill was watched closely by Gov. Stone and his staff, who seemed to take more interest in this drill than in the inspection of the infantry of the brigades.

Gov. Stoen said this evening that he was greatly pleased with the camp. He said it was the best camp the national guard had ever had and complimented both officers and men for their efficiency. Inspector General Sweeney has finished his work, and stated tonight that there had been great improvement in the work of the entire guard over last year. He said the troops were never in better condition than they are at present.

Col. Patterson, general inspector of rifle practice, stated tonight that the rifle teams would go to Mt. Gretna on August 18 and would be on the firing line August 19. For the first time in the history of the guard a team match will be shot at 1,000 yards. The range in former years has been only 600 yards. The winning team will be entered in the inter-state shoot at Sea Girt, N. J., besides being presented with a valuable bronze trophy offered by Col. Trexler of the governor's staff.

James Mahany, Company I, Tenth regiment, Pennsylvania, broke his leg shortly before leaving camp this evening. He was tusseling with a comrade when he slipped and fell.

The competitive drill in the Sixteenth regiment today for $75 resulted as follows: First battalion, Company G, Erie; Second battalion, Company B, Meadville; Third battalion, Company C, Bradford.

The commission of the Union ex-Prisoners of War, which will erect a monument in the national cemetery at Andersonville, met here today. The members present were Col. Ripple, Scranton; Judge Harry White, Indiana; Capt. W. T. Ziegler, Gettysburg; Capt. W. H. Bricker, Beaver Falls, and Col. J. D. Walker, Pittsburgh. The commission stirred up all the details in connection with the monument and decided to award the contract for a $10,000 memorial at once.

ATLANTIC CITY.

Charles T. Schoen Wins Prize in the Horse Show—Mrs. Gerkin of New York Leads All.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 18.—(Special.)—Charles T. Schoen of Pittsburgh won the fourth prize, the white ribbon of high commendation, at the horse show today. In the pairs of harness horses competition his entries were the Colonel and Major. The Windsor challenge cup was captured for the second time in succession by Diwentz of New York in the class of single harness horses suitable for girls, when driven by the owner. This was Lord Golden II. was the entry, Lord Brilliant having been the winning horse last year. Diwentz must win the cup next year in order to retain permanent possession.

Mrs. J. Gerkin of New York was again the star of the day, taking the blue ribbon and $75 in prize money, with Braden and Belmar in the harness horses class while her Shop Girl and Jewshoy took second prize and $25 in cash. She also rode Thyra, owned by Mrs. H. H. Good, in the saddle horses class, carrying off first prize, and in the event for single harness horses she took second prize, driving Belmar. In the open class of roadsters, appointments as well as the animals being considered, Miss Florida, owned by Cryil W. Armstrong, made a clean sweep.

The New York exhibitors today won five first prizes, four seconds and one third, while Philadelphians won three first, one second and one third.

Preliminary Glass Conferences.

The glass bottle manufacturers, who have gathered here for their conference with the workers on the wage scale, held a preliminary meeting today and will meet again tomorrow. The sessions are held in Odd Fellows' hall and are strictly secret. President Dennis A. Hayes of the blowers' organization, and the members of the wage committee are also holding conferences preliminary to next week's joint meeting.

Three Pittsburghers Rescued.

Three Pittsburghers were rescued from the surf late this afternoon by Life Guards Conover and Miller. They had been caught by an undercurrent and carried out beyond their depth. After being brought ashore they gave their names as Mrs. Carwell, Mrs. George Guben and Mr. Jones, but declined to tell their places of residence in Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgher Elected Treasurer.

At the closing session of the second annual convention of the National Electrical Contractors' association, the following officers were elected: President, Charles L. Bilditz New York; secretary, W. H. Morton, Utica, N. Y.; treasurer, George R. Mathieu, Pittsburgh. The next annual convention will be held in Detroit and the directors of the association will meet in Buffalo next February.

Wheelmen Smoke All Night.

The all-night smoker in connection with the League of American Wheelmen did not break up until daylight this morning and the 800 members and guests had a merry time. The program included music, vaudeville, sketches, athletics and boxing bouts, one of which ended in a knock-out. Thirty wheelmen and wheelwomen made a morning run to Somers Point and return, while others went fishing, yachting and bathing.

The banquet of the pioneers at the Grand Atlantic was the principal event tonight, about 75 old-timers being present, among them the following: Marriott Morris, Philadelphia; W. H. Morrow, Ada, O.; E. P. Judson, New York; W. A. Howell, Connecticut; M. M. Belding, New York; Joe McDermitt, New Jersey; H. Earle, Detroit; Dr. E. V. Brendon, William Frisbie, New Haven; W. H. Hale, New York. M. M. Belding was toastmaster, assisted by Abbott Bassett, secretary-treasurer of the Pioneers' association.

Luray Coal Still Burns.

A big pile of coal back of the site of the recently-destroyed Hotel Luray is still burning. When the fire of April 3 swept along the Boardwalk there were 20 tons of coal in the bins of the Luray, and where the debris covered the coal it was thought that the fire beneath was smothered. During yesterday's rain steam was seen issuing from the pile and crowds were attracted to the scene. The pile was dubbed the "Burning Mine."

There is no danger of the fire spreading, as it simply consists of a smoldering pile. A force of men will rake it over and throw a stream of water on, and then the ashes will be carted away to the dumping grounds.

Photographers by the Sea.

Delegates to the Photographers' union comprising the states of Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware and West Virginia came to Atlantic City this morning to spend the day here. The union has been in convention in Philadelphia during the week. Several parties enjoyed the ocean bathing, while others visited the steel pier and heard the band concert. The name of the union has been changed to the Pennmardelva association, which stands for the names of the four states in which members reside.

LONG DISTANCE RUNS MADE BY AUTOMOBILISTS

PROPOSES TO MAKE RECORD

Frank A. Brobst and Wife Start This Morning on a 1,000-Mile Trip. Something About the Routes of the Two Tourists.

Two long-distance automobile runs interest Pittsburghers today. Max Fleischmann of the well-known Cincinnati family arrived in this city last evening in his effort to make a brand new record by a Cincinnati-New York run. He will remain here until this afternoon while his machine is undergoing repairs.

This morning Frank A. Brobst, proprietor of the Hotel Lincoln, accompanied by Mrs. Brobst, starts on a 1,000-mile trip, intending to completely circle Lake Erie, going by way of Detroit and returning by way of Buffalo.

Just before reaching Pittsburgh yesterday afternoon an accident happened to the Fleischmann machine that rendered it useless until repairs are completed. These will be finished this morning and the journey continued. In the meantime the automobilist is at the Duquesne. He went to bed at 8:30 p. m., tired out by his long series of rides.

The start from Cincinnati was made July 8, or 10 days before he reached this city. With only the one companion, Joe Bridges, his chauffeur, he has made the trip so far, coming by way of Columbus, O., Wheeling, W. Va., and the old National pike to Washington, Pa.; then by the Washington road to Pittsburgh.

Going east he passes through Uniontown, Connellsville, Bedford and Chambersburg to Harrisburg, Reading and running close to Philadelphia, crosses New Jersey to New York. He hopes to make New York now in about 10 days more at the most, if nothing further happens.

His tour will not end there, however, for he will go on up the east bank of the Hudson to Poughkeepsie, and then along the west bank to Kingston and Fleischmann-on-the-Hudson, the summer home in the Catskills established by the late Charles Fleischmann.

The machine he uses is a 12 horse power gasmobile. It weighs 2,300 pounds and is ordinarily capable of carrying three persons, but on this trip the space for the third rider is occupied by a trunk basket. It is equipped with double-tube tires and powerful electric lights. Mr. Fleischmann is determined to complete the run. He says he will not stop unless the machine breaks down beyond hope, and if disappointed this time will try again next year, and keep on until he sets a record for others to try to beat.

The trip which Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Brobst will make is also a new one, for Pittsburghers at least. The run will be made at leisure, as it is not desired to establish any record for time. The itinerary is by way of Cleveland along the lake to Toledo and Detroit, across the St. Clair river and along the Canadian lake shore to Niagara Falls and Buffalo. From Buffalo the trip may be continued farther east, if they feel disposed to do so; if not they will come home along the south shore of Lake Erie, by way of Erie to Cambridge Springs and Butler, and on to Pittsburgh. No time has been set for the arrival here, but it will likely be late in August or early in September.

The machine Mr. Brobst will use is a steam "White," of six horse power. It has seats for two persons. For this trip it has been equipped with an extra gasoline tank and a wicker hamper.

DES MOINES, IA., July 18.—Heavy wind and rainstorms occurred all over the state today. Upward of two inches of rain fell in many localities and near Eddyville the storm amounted to a cloudburst. At Carroll the daughter of George Simons was killed by lightning.

DEADLOCK IS STILL UNBROKEN

NO PRINCIPAL ELECTED AT MT. ALBION SUB-DISTRICT SCHOOL.

Two New Candidates Are in the Field, but at a Special Meeting Last Night Neither Were Selected—Will Meet Again August 6.

The deadlock in the Mt. Albion subdistrict school board over the selection of a principal still exists. It is doubtful if it will be broken, unless one of the present candidates for the office withdraws.

The school board at a special meeting held last night failed to make the selection, although 13 ballots were taken. The deadlock has existed for the past two months, and a total of 321 ballots have been cast since the voting commenced.

Several days ago Miss Rose McCleary, who has been principal of the school, and who was one of the most prominent candidates for the office, withdrew from the contest, and although her name was not presented at the meeting last night, the deadlock still remained unbroken.

A new combination as strong and obstinate as that which supported Miss McCleary developed during the first ballot last night for Miss Jennie Martin and continued throughout the balloting.

Dr. Kirkpatrick, who was a loyal champion of Miss McCleary, transferred his support to Miss Martin, and with A. M. Miller and James Gallagher voted 13 times for her. The other three members of the board voted for the various other applicants.

No effort was made to compromise, and the balloting was conducted without discussion. The contest is attracting a great deal of attention among the educators, and two more applicants for the position were added to the long list last night.

They were Prof. S. S. Baker of Crafton, who was a strong opponent of Prof. Samuel Hamilton during the recent contest for the county superintendency, and Prof. W. A. Proudfit, who served in the O'Hara sub-district school for 20 years as principal.

The board will meet August 6, the regular meeting time, and make another effort to elect a principal.

ALCORN IS TO REORGANIZE THE COMMITTEES

Col. Guffey Meets With the Democratic Executive Committee.

MARTIN GETS SUPPORT

Third Legislative District Democrats Meet and Decide to Back Up the Alderman's Demand — Recorder Brown Is Visible for a Short Time.

The first meeting of the campaign of the Democratic executive committee was held at Democratic headquarters yesterday afternoon. Thirteen members were present and there were two substitutions.

Charles T. Abbott was substituted for James A. Clark, and Samuel J. Graham took the place of J. J. Miller. The reason given for the substitutions is that both Clark and Miller are candidates for office and withdrew from the executive committee on that account.

The members present were: Charles B. Payne, chairman; Marion H. Murphy, secretary; William J. Brennen, Robert Beck, James F. Kane, Frank P. Jams, W. H. S. Thomson, William Dillon, Berry Myers, F. C. Osborne, Charles A. Fagan and Charles Call. County Chairman Thomas B. Alcorn and Col. James M. Guffey met with the committee.

After an organization had been completed the first business was the indorsing of the appointment by County Chairman Alcorn of the campaign committee, of which Samuel J. Graham is chairman. A resolution was passed making it the duty of the executive committee to act in conjunction with the campaign committee.

Alcorn to Reconstruct Committees.

County Chairman Alcorn was authorized and instructed to reconstruct and reorganize the committees of law, finance, taxes, registration and speakers. Alcorn stated that he would be ready to announce the members of these committees by the first of next week.

The committee decided that additional room would have to be secured for meeting places for the committees during the coming campaign, and it was voted to engage the two rooms immediately above the present headquarters, Diamond street and Cherry alley, for the purpose.

Democratic friends and sympathizers of Alderman John A. Martin, whose delegates to the county Democratic convention of July 2 were not seated, held a meeting in Gardner's hall, at Kirkpatrick street and Wylie avenue, last night.

The meeting was attended by about 25 Democrats, and was held behind closed doors. Andrew Hopkins stood at the door with a list of voters of the Third legislative district, and only those who were on his list were allowed to attend the meeting.

There was a noticeable absence of Dennis J. Boyle sympathizers at the meeting, and peace and quietness reigned during its session. There were present a few who had seats in the Democratic county convention, and several members of the Third legislative district convention attended.

Martin Carries His Point.

The meeting lasted for an hour and a half. Andrew Hopkins was chairman and Thomas L. Kane was secretary. The object of the meeting was to question the advisability of the disgruntled Democrats insisting that one Democratic candidate for the legislature be selected in the district instead of abiding by and indorsing the ticket prepared by managers of the Citizens party.

After discussing the matter at some length it was unanimously decided to remain loyal to the demand of Alderman Martin that he be recognized, and to insist that a Democratic candidate be selected for the ticket. If this is done the Martin Democrats promise to stand by the ticket and support the other fusion nominee for legislature.

Dennis J. Boyle, who was appointed to select a committee of three to name candidates for the legislature in the Third legislative district, said last night that he had made no appointments. He stated that he might be ready to announce the names of the members of the committee by the middle of next week.

He intimated that the committee he would name would be instructed to select one Democratic candidate for the legislature in the district, and that one of the Citizens candidates would be indorsed. He stated also that Martin would not be taken into the confidence of the committee, and that he would have no voice in the selection of the candidates.

Recorder Brown Was Visible.

Recorder Joseph Owen Brown slipped quietly back into his office yesterday afternoon and spent a few hours dodging local politicians. He was in his City hall quarters but a very few minutes, and then went to organization headquarters in Sixth avenue. Hurriedly returning to his City hall quarters later, he gathered up a few papers and hustled away, evidently fearing he would be held up.

Recorder Brown denies emphatically that he has been away from Pittsburgh for more than one day during his absence from City hall. "The newspapers, I see, have had me away for nearly a week," he declared yesterday afternoon, "but I have been taking a little quiet rest at home.

"I have also noticed it reported that I did not intend to return to my office until Monday, but in order to prove these reports incorrect I thought I would come in for a few hours this afternoon."

The recorder has been a much-sought-after man for the past few days. Politicians have been hunting him in every direction and have been unable to locate him within three hours.

He went over to Philadelphia on some business last Monday night and with the exception of that time have been right in Pittsburgh," declared the recorder yesterday afternoon. "My visit to the Quaker City had no political significance whatever.

The last statement is one of the recorder's favorites and he delights to make it on almost every occasion where he does not choose to divulge the real object of his visits.

Says He Is Not Dodging Quay.

The recorder in most emphatic terms denied the story that he was keeping under cover to dodge Senator Quay to keep from paying his quota to the state campaign fund as city chairman. "There is not a word of truth in the report," he said.

"I do not believe Senator Quay is treating the organization fairly in trying to get the citizens party to indorse the state Republican ticket?" was asked.

Recorder Brown refuse to be quoted on that subject. "I do not care to discuss it further than to say I fully believe, however, that Senator Quay will get the Citizens party to indorse Pennypacker and Brown.

"How about your candidacy to succeed yourself as recorder?"

"That is too far in the distance. The only thing I can say is that I am working night and main with this one object in view are incorrect. We have to go through one campaign before we reach the municipal election next February, and until we get one election over there is no use attempting to start on another."

Citizens Meet in the Fourteenth.

Members of the Citizens party of the 25th district of the Fourteenth ward held a well-attended meeting last night at McAllister's hall. The district has 685 registered voters. A resolution was unanimously adopted heartily indorsing the entire ticket named by the Citizens committee and pledging its enthusiastic support; also commending the course of Controller John B. Larkin, the councilmen and school directors elected on the Citizens ticket in February, and inviting all good citizens to unite in completing the good work in the county so splendidly started in the city. It was also resolved that the selection of H. K. Porter for representative in congress is the highest honor the people of the Fourteenth ward could ask, and declaring that his election will be an honor to the city and the state, and especially gratifying to the voters of the Fourteenth ward.

WILL GO BACK FOR HIM.

Information Is Made Against Rollins and Detective Barry Is to Bring Him Here.

Information was made yesterday by an official of the American Steel and Wire Company against Bernard P. Rollins of Forty-fourth street, who is reported to have given himself up in Chicago, and informed the authorities there that he is wanted here for forgery. The case is now before Magistrate McKenna. Detective Barry, who returned from Chicago yesterday, having left there after Rollins surrendered, will go to Chicago after him.

If the man in Chicago is B. P. Rollins, until recently in the employ of the American Steel and Wire Company, he has convicted himself by his talk as there is practically no evidence against him. These men have been manipulating checks of the American Steel and Wire Company. Who they were, Gilkinson's detectives were not sure, but to have a warrant ready, they charged John Doe, before Alderman C. F. Anderson, with embezzlement.

Rollins was not suspected, of being mixed up in the crookedness, but he disappeared. It is reported that while he has been away his wife has squared up matters with the company, so that when he is brought back he will tell of his dealings with the principals in the game, and get out of it with but little difficulty.

SECOND AUDIT IS MADE.

Will Wind Up Affairs of the Freehold Building and Loan Association in September.

The second audit of the defunct Freehold Building & Loan Association, now being made by W. H. Spoonsler, auditor, is expected to wind up the affairs of this organization, which went into the hands of a receiver, the Union Trust Company, five years ago. About 1,500 creditors are expected to present their claims today when the audit winds up. It commenced yesterday morning. The account will be filed in Dauphin county and the final distribution will probably be made in September.

Attorney Sponsler said yesterday that it was impossible for him to state what percentage of the claims will be paid, as he has not ascertained the amount of available assets for distribution, but he does not believe the creditors will receive more than 45 or 50 per cent of their claims. The organization failed for about $60,000. Of this amount, about $30,000 has been collected, out of which all expenses will have to be met before the creditors can receive the balance due them. The first distribution was a fraction over 34 per cent, and the final distribution will probably be under 10 per cent.

PRIESTS IN RETREAT.

Beginning next Monday morning, the priests of the diocese of Pittsburgh will go into their annual retreat. The retreat will be held as usual in St. Francis monastery chapel, at Loretto. The exercises will be conducted by the Very Rev. Father Walter Elliott of the Paulists, New York city. Father Elliott is one of the leading workers in the non-Catholic mission movement in this country.

In order that there may be no vacancy during the weeks of retreat, one-half of the clergy will attend the first week, and the other half the following week.

"Retreat" is the word used to designate a series of spiritual exercises conducted at certain periods every year, in all parts of the world, for the benefit of the clergy. The regulations governing these retreats are strict, and binding on every priest and assistant engaged in parish work. It is intended as a means to keep before the priest his sacred duties, and at the same time give him an opportunity for self-examination and the better qualifying of himself, spiritually, for his work.

Hill Fails to See Roosevelt.

OYSTER BAY, July 18.—The Roosevelts enjoyed an old-fashioned picnic this afternoon, returning at 6 o'clock. Ex-Senator David B. Hill, who was in the village visiting William F. Sheehan, departed today without having seen the president. A time for meeting that would be convenient to both could not be arranged.

COMMITTEE OF THE RECORDER TO TAKE PART

It Will Participate in Conferences on Polytechnic School Site.

CRAWFORD NAMES MEN

Common Council Members of Joint Committee Are Announced—Recorder Brown Says City Should Accede to Mr. Carnegie's Wishes.

Recorder J. O. Brown's committee on a site for the polytechnic school will give some assistance to the board of trustees of Carnegie Institute. Shortly after City Recorder J. O. Brown assumed that office he appointed 12 committees on municipal affairs, composed of men prominent in commercial and political circles. Prominent among these was the committee on a site for the polytechnic school. This committee is to get down to work. President C. S. Crawford yesterday appointed the common council members of the joint councilmanic committee and that committee is now complete.

"The city of Pittsburgh should give Andrew Carnegie whatever he wants in the way of a site for the polytechnic school," said Recorder Brown yesterday shortly after he reached his office from his trip to the east. "Whatever Mr. Carnegie wants he should have, and that will finally be the solution of the whole matter. I do not know, personally, what he wants, but from what I have learned from men who have talked to him about it there is no doubt in my mind that he wants, and will be glad to get, the 52-acre tract north of Fifth avenue. William McConway talked with Mr. Carnegie about it, and City Solicitor Thomas D. Carnahan also had a talk with him about it, and both of these gentlemen know just what Mr. Carnegie wants.

"I myself am in favor of giving whatever Mr. Carnegie wants, but I have nothing to do with the matter, except to consider any measure which councils may pass in relation to it. Mr. Carnegie will undoubtedly add to his benefactions if there is plenty of room for him to do so. There is no question that the trustees of the institute and the members of the committee on plan and scope know what Mr. Carnegie wants.

"The greater the site, the greater the school which we shall receive. I think there is no question about that in the minds of any of them. This question will be properly solved. I have no doubt, but the quicker it is solved the better.

"The committee that I appointed to consider the matter of securing a site for this school has had several meetings and will meet again in September. William McConway is chairman of that committee. It will endeavor to aid in solving this problem."

President Crawford yesterday appointed the following common councilmen to the joint committee: Gebhart Sahner, Twenty-seventh ward; Daniel F. Crawford, Fourteenth ward; Henry Fitzpatrick, Eleventh ward; Daniel J. Bole, Nineteenth ward. These gentlemen, with the following appointed heretofore by President John S. Lambie of select council, compose the joint committee: Samuel J. Wainwright, Jr., Eighteenth ward; W. J. Zahnleer, Seventeenth ward; William E. Sankey, Twenty-seventh ward. All of these members have been notified of their appointment and they are summoned to meet in the city clerk's office next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock to organize by the election of a chairman and secretary. After the organization the committee will adopt a resolution stating its readiness to meet the trustees of the institute at any time and place they may select.

BABE SEES THE CRIME.

Released Convict Kills His Wife and Attempts Suicide.

CHICAGO, ILL., July 18.—Because his wife gave evidence that her love for him had waned while he was serving 17 months in the state prison, William Nelson shot her to death today and then turned his revolver upon himself in an ineffectual attempt to take his own life.

Their baby, too young to realize that a crime was being committed, was the only witness to the tragedy. When the murder was discovered the cold form of the wife was clasped in the arms of the man who had taken her life. His wound was only superficial.

GATES TELLS OF L. & N. DEAL

WOULD HAVE CAUSED PANIC HAD HE CALLED THE STOCK.

Was Awakened at 1:30 a. m. by Representative of Morgan & Co. and Asked to Know What He Was Going to Do About It.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 18.—In an interview today John W. Gates gave the following history of the Louisville & Nashville deal:

"We had the opinions of the best experts and auditors in the country that Louisville & Nashville was worth more per share than Illinois Central before we started into it. We knew it had $25,000,000 of quick cash assets in its treasury. The public did not know that. When we obtained 306,000 shares of stock, the amount we started out to get, there was a short interest in the market of 150,000 shares. Of it 100,000 shares was foreign short interest, 50,000 was stock Mr. Belmont had sold under a resolution of the board authorizing its sale. These 50,000 shares were not good delivered for 30 days, and if we had called the stock and insisted on the specific performance of contracts, as we had every right to, we could have caused a panic greater than the May 9 panic.

"The proposition was made to me by a thoroughly responsible man finally that if I would call and insist upon delivery of Louisville he would sell 500,000 shares of stock and give me half of the profits for doing it. Mr. Morgan's people sent to my hotel and awakened me at 1:30 o'clock in the morning and stated that at a meeting of bankers it had been determined that we were the owners of Louisville & Nashville, and they wanted to know what we proposed to do about it, stating that it meant a panic probably greater than the May 9 panic.

"I told them the proposition that had been made to me, but that under no circumstances would we insist upon specific performance of the deliveries of Louisville & Nashville stock, as we had no wish whatever to cause a panic or make any one lose money in stocks they held. We had loaned Mr. Belmont's people all the stock they wanted without any premium charged."

NEGRESS ON RAMPAGE.

With Two Revolvers, She Cleared Out Settlement Near Turtle Creek.

The negro settlement in North Versailles township, opposite Turtle creek, was thrown into a state of terror yesterday afternoon by the action of Bessie Stewart, a negress, who only arrived in the settlement from Virginia last week.

With a revolver in each hand, she visited the various shanties and ordered all the occupants to vacate, saying that she was to be the only resident. She threatened to kill those who refused to obey her command. The half hundred negroes fled before her.

For the greater portion of the afternoon she had the place to herself, and at intervals would visit each house, to see that no person returned.

Constable T. J. Hanley heard of the trouble and after skillfully dodging about the houses, succeeded in catching her off guard, before she could bring her revolvers into play, she was handcuffed and taken to the office of Justice James Mullooly, where she was given a hearing on a charge of surety of the peace and sent to the county jail.

Charming Summer Resorts.

Two interesting little books of the illustrated folder type have been issued by the Grand Trunk railway system, one being entitled "Songs of the Nipissing," and the other, "The Eastern Coast of Lake Huron." The illustrations are very numerous, are of all sizes, and are scattered through the pages to elucidate the text and appear to the eye just as the story told in the letter press does to the mind. The prevailing note in these little works, upon which a profitable half hour may be spent by the reader, is the craving for change and there can be no doubt that men and women who live in the stress and strain of today, and feel the throbs of advanced and advancing civilization, do require change—complete change for mind and body. The haunts described here minister to the intellectual as well as the physical health of jaded dwellers in cities. The physical exercise that can be obtained among the woods and waters create and promote a perfectly sound bodily condition, while the multifarious life that is to be found stimulates the intellectual faculties and prompt inquiry and investigation into nature's ways as they are revealed in her flora and fauna. The maps which are in these pamphlets enable the visitor to the wilds to realize his bearings at whatever part he may be, and the general information given enables him to economize his time and spend it to the best advantage.

Copies may be had on application to G. T. Bell, general passenger and ticket agent, Grand Trunk Railway System, Montreal, Canada.

Three Joes' Gusher to Be Stirred Up

Developments in the Lower Southwest fields are getting into a run of the more good producers are coming to the front in the Gordon territory in Marion and Wetzel counties, W. Va., and with no gushers due in the Keener sand territory in Ritchie county, W. Va. Next week, however, there ought to be something doing in the Keener development. The Three Joes Oil Company will be due in the sand with a new well and Mallory Bros. & Co. should get the sand with two.

Regardless of the fact that the gusher on the Elroy Warner farm is still holding up at 600 barrels a day, the Three Joes Oil Company will take the chances on giving it a shot today. It was drilled into the second pay three days ago today and started at 1,100 barrels a day. At no time since then has the production fallen below 500 barrels a day. One of the owners stated yesterday that they thought a shot would bring the production up to more than 1,000 barrels, and that their reason for running the risk of an accident while shooting was that as much production from the well as possible before the tests on adjacent leases are drilled into the sand.

It is quite probable that the new crop of wells will be small affairs as compared with the gusher. Even though they make a good start they will decline rapidly on account of the four weeks' pull the Three Joes Oil Company's test will have had.

Some Small Producers.

On Elm run, Hochstetter & Gunaburg have drilled their No. 9 on the J. W. Marshall farm through the salt sand and have a show for a 5-barrel pumper.

In the Cairo district the Xerxes Oil Company has completed No. 3 on the Harkins tract and has a 15-barrel pumper in the salt sand.

On McKim creek, Meade district, Tyler county, the Carter Oil Company has drilled its No. 2 on the J. D. Dye farm through the Big Injun sand and has a 5-barrel pumper.

In the Stringtown district the Colonial Oil Company has shot and put its second test on the Cebron Allen farm, and this well promises to be a very light producer in the Maxon sand.

In the Polsom district, Wetzel county, the South Penn Oil Company has completed and put into the J. D. Cox farm through the Big Injun sand and has a 20-barrel producer.

In the Fish Creek district, Marshall county, the South Penn has given its No. 5 on the John Mason farm its first shot and the well produced 70 barrels the ensuing 14 hours. In the same district, No. 2 on the T. F. McIlvain farm is holding up at 158 barrels a day.

In the Bealls Mills district, Lewis county, the South Penn Oil Company's No. 4 on the John Collins farm is drilling in the top of the Fifth sand and has filled 2,000 feet with fluid from the strata. (Gordon.)

In the shallow sand territory on the Ohio side, in the Wolf Creek district, Morgan county, Long & Jennings have drilled in a test on the Olive Wood farm and have a show for a 50-barrel producer. This well is a little in advance of developments and shows a slight extension. The shallow sand territory in this county is about due to introduce a new pool.

In the Chester Hill district Whedon & Co. have completed their No. 4 on the C. F. Fox farm and have a small well.

The Julian Oil Company's No. 8 on the Thomas Rowland farm is not good for more than 5 barrels a day.

A. A. Cameron has completed his No. 26 on the H. Bowman farm and has a duster.

In the Marietta district, Washington county, C. B. Huston & Co. have completed No. 10 on the Lillian S. Com farm and have a show for a 10-barrel pumper after giving it a shot.

In the Moscow development, Jefferson county, John McElrevin Sons & Co. have completed No. 4 on the Kate A. Watson farm and will have a 6-barrel pumper.

In the Speechley district, Butler county, Pa., the Troutman Oil Company has completed its No. 3 on the Lucy Dunlap farm and has a 7-barrel pumper.

The Southern Oil Company has completed and shot its No. 2 on the Neff heirs' farm and has a show for an average pumper. This well was drilled in wet as an experiment in that locality.

The same company has given its test on the C. Robb farm a second shot, but failed to save it from the duster aggregation.

The Oil Market.

The Standard Oil Company's price for credit balances was announced yesterday at $1.22. The Producers and Refiners also paid $1.22.

OIL CITY, PA., July 18.—Credit balances, $1.26; certificates, no bid. Shipments, 165,487 barrels; average, 73,568 barrels. Runs, 90,671 barrels; average, 80,067 barrels.

DAVID AND GOLIATH.

A Little Shot Pot Old King Coffee Out of Business.

When medicine fails, they sometimes send sick people away to another climate for their health. Sometimes the climate does it, but more often they stumble on the proper food to take, and then get well.

A lady in San Diego tells of a friend who left her home each December for the past two winters to go to Cal. for her health. She says: "Almost all of her time was spent in visiting the doctor and sitting in a big chair and watching the clock to note the time for her next dose of medicine. Nervousness was her principal trouble, and with others of kindred nature, made life for her a burden.

"On the occasion of her last visit I begged her to give up the use of coffee and use Postum Coffee. She replied that she could not stop coffee. I said no more at the time, but the next morning at breakfast I passed her a fragrant, steaming cup of Postum, making it as it should be made. After that I had no more trouble and my friend drank no more coffee. But the most surprising part of the experience was the change that soon came over her.

"We began to notice it within less than a week. In less than a month her nervousness had left her and in three months she was a new woman in face, figure and health. I had not dared to hope for so much benefit, although I had been greatly benefited myself by Postum, but coffee to her system was simply poisonous, and I believe this is the case with many others. She returned to her home in December and was married within less than two months after. She never fails to give credit to Postum for her health or thanks to me for teaching her to make it properly, and well she may, for Postum has done for her what travel, doctors and medicine failed to do." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

BEAUTY.

HOW IT CAN BE OBTAINED

How to Make a Marvelously Perfect Complexion and Restore Youthful Looks.

HOW TO REMOVE PIMPLES, FRECKLES, MOTH, BROWN PATCHES, BLACKHEADS, OILINESS AND ALL DEFECTS FROM THE FACE, NECK AND ARMS.

There is nothing more beautiful than the human face with its vivacious countenance, its sparkling eye, its pleasant smile and perfect symmetry.

But the crowning glory of the face is a radiant complexion with its lively glow, its youthful tinge, and its fine, smooth texture.

But the question is can such a complexion be attained?

In this wonderfully progressive age of art, literature and science; of the steam engine, the mighty cannon, the electric motor, the wireless telegraph and the ponderous fabric making machines; what is there that is impossible?

By a careful study of the nature and texture of the skin, and a thorough research in the realms of chemistry and compounding of ingredients, a remedy has been at last perfected that will accomplish these results.

This remedy is Mme. A. Rupert's Face Bleach.

WHAT FACE BLEACH IS.—Face Bleach is not a cosmetic to cover up, but it absolutely removes once and forever all the discolorations and blemishes to which the complexion is subject. I can positively guarantee every woman it will do all I claim. Its action on the skin cannot fail to remove every defect. It's a well-known fact that the blood in order to cleanse itself is constantly throwing off its impurities through the pores of the skin; now if the pores are not kept open, the impurities of the blood cannot escape, but collect below the surface and produce all manner of skin troubles, such as PIMPLES, FRECKLES, MOTH, SALLOWNESS, BLACKHEADS, ACNE AND NUMEROUS OTHER SKIN DISEASES AND DISCOLORATIONS.

ACTION OF FACE BLEACH.—Now Face Bleach has this two-fold action; first, it has a magnetical action, which attracts and draws to the surface the impurities which have collected under the skin; and, secondly, a chemical action which removes by scaling off (in the form of a fine dandruff) the surface of the outer, diseased or dead cuticle, leaving the under skin—beautiful, youthful-looking and delicately tinted by nature—clear, smooth and perfect. This method is perfectly harmless to the most delicate skin, as it harmonizes with the laws of hygiene and nature, the two factors which we must adhere to and follow if we wish to permanently improve our personal appearance.

THOUSANDS BENEFITED.—Thousands of patrons, who were annoyed and vexed with most miserable complexions, have been delighted with the grand improvement Madame Rupert's Face Bleach has produced in their skins. Many complexions roused with pimples, freckles and eczematous eruptions (itching, burning and annoying) have been changed to bright, beautiful skins, and the improvements made in their looks were simply marvelous. There is scarcely a defect to which the complexion is heir which will not succumb to this wonderful remedy. Premature wrinkles and lines—those inroads of beauty—are quickly effaced, and those muddy, disfiguring, sallow, jaundiced skins are quickly transformed into clear, wholesome ones by its use. Flabby skins—which are mark the ravages of time—become firm and smooth after a few applications. Skin troubles which have baffled the most skillful physicians have been removed and cured promptly, and many have expressed, personally and by letter, their heartfelt and profoundest thanks for this wonderful Face Bleach.

A positive guarantee is given if Face Bleach is used according to the new special directions, which are inclosed with each order, that it will remove every discoloration and impurity from your complexion.

All of Mme. A. Rupert's world renowned preparations are sold by us at reduced prices.

The Golf Championship.

While Pittsburgh has not won the golf championship yet, it is getting near to that point. Its representative is in the final contest for today, with a record for play that induces the liveliest anticipations of success on the part of his friends. On Thursday Mr. Byers gave an exhibition of magnificent playing in perfect golf weather, by which he laid low the champion of two years, and yesterday he defeated an extremely clever amateur, Dr. Fredericks, on links that were flooded. He has thus proven himself a master of the game in fair and foul weather, worthy to be champion. If he should not, however, bring the trophy to Pittsburgh he will still be entitled to high honor for so nearly reaching the goal.

Give Cuba a Chance.

Gen. Bragg admits, in reply to official inquiry, that he uttered an uncomplimentary sentiment about Cuba, but pleads that it was not for publication. The plea is without effect. If he entertains such views of Cuba privately, he is not the right man to be consul general at Havana. He should appreciate the fact and resign instead of pleading that an unauthorized publication ought not to weigh against him. If he does not resign he must be recalled.

It was bad enough that congress, disregarding the wishes of the president and a vast majority of the American people, refused to grant Cuba commercial concessions. It was worse when United States senators publicly proclaimed a desire for immediate annexation of the island. It is adding insult to injury to have the United States consul at Havana sending out his belief that Cuba is incapable of self-government and then trying to dodge responsibility by asserting that such is his personal opinion, not meant to obtain wide publicity.

To adopt Gen. Bragg's epigrammatic language, "it would be as easy to make a whistle from a pig's tail" as to try to do anything in Cuba with hostile representatives. Gen. Leonard Wood entertained no such opinions. He accomplished much. His friend, President Roosevelt, has obtained no such opinions as Bragg's from Gen. Wood, and has faith in the Cuban republic if it is given a fair show. For himself, he declares it shall have a chance "as sure as fate," and the American people are with him for that sentiment.

Preparing for the Coronation.

All doubt as to the date of the coronation exercises in London has been removed by the official announcement that the postponed ceremony will take place on the ninth of August, at which time their majesties, King Edward and Queen Alexandra, will be crowned in state at Westminster Abbey. It does not appear from the official proclamation that there is contemplated any other public display than the royal procession from Buckingham to Westminster Abbey. It is more than likely, barring this performance of a part of the original program, there will be no effort made to carry out the elaborate and spectacular designs arranged for the coronation week in June, which were so disastrously broken off by the king's sudden illness. There will, no doubt, be large crowds in London, but there is a manifest tendency in court circles, evidently emanating from the king himself and from those who have the comfort and safety of the royal patient under their care, to have the ceremony as free from excitement and display as possible.

This course will be approved by popular judgment. The English people are naturally pleased at the speedy recovery of their monarch from what looked like a fatal illness. The disappointment and financial loss incurred by the postponement of the coronation were keenly felt by nearly all classes of people in London. It entailed a large and costly outlay on the part of thousands who journeyed thither to take part in the exercises. But so satisfactory has been the recovery of the king and so relieved are his subjects that everybody will be content to see the coronation services observed minus the big spectacle and rich display originally intended. This course is doubly wise in view of the great risk that might be incurred in taxing the king's strength even at that favorable point in his recovery.

The Business Situation.

The most conservative estimate of the probable yield of corn this year places the total at a billion bushels more than the actual amount harvested last year. On the basis of the average price for a series of normal years, this increased yield of corn would mean an enormously enlarged buying power on the part of the corn planter and the cattle raiser, who is the greatest consumer of the grain. The estimated yield of oats is also larger than last year, and, while the yield of wheat will not so large, it is fully up to the average of the past five years. The farm value of the cereal crops of the United States in 1901 was something over $1,750,000,000. It will probably not prove to be an overestimate to place the value this year at $2,000,000,000. These figures do not include the hay crop, which has averaged about $400,000,000 in value during the last three or four years, and which promises a larger yield this year.

Weather conditions this week have been generally favorable for harvesting and marketing wheat, and crop experts report that the quality of the grain has been considerably improved. It is the promise contained in the public and private reports from the farm that has maintained the cheerful sentiment in business circles. Market values are still abnormally high for corn and oats, but the reason is that speculators have made contracts calling for the delivery of old-crop grain and are experiencing difficulty in meeting the same.

The week witnessed a remarkable revival of activity in the stock market. There were two million-share days on the New York stock exchange, and the increased trading was accompanied by advancing prices, the latter in some instances reaching the highest level of the year. While it is true that the movement is largely based upon manipulation by powerful speculative cliques, the real basis is the sound condition of trade, the agricultural outlook, and the continued activity of our great industries. Regarding the latter, the affidavit of President Schwab relating to the affairs of the United States Steel Corporation, and the announcement of plans for improvement by some of the largest railway systems in the country have supplemented the reports of the department of agriculture and the weather crop bureau.

Some improvement has occurred in the labor situation. The strikes at Chicago among the freight handlers, which threatened to paralyze business, have been settled, and the news from the miners' convention at Indianapolis removes apprehension of interruption in the bituminous coal fields.

Tribute to a Pennsylvania General.

When Stony Point on the Hudson was dedicated as a public park, a few days ago, the orator of the occasion was Judge Pennypacker, Republican candidate for governor of Pennsylvania. There was nothing political about the graceful invitation to the judge to deliver the address. It was a recognition of the fitness of things. Anthony Wayne, the hero of Stony Point, was a Pennsylvania man, and it was proper that an orator from the Keystone State should speak of Wayne's great services to the United States in the revolutionary struggle. Judge Pennypacker discharged the pleasant duty in a way that deserves the thanks of the people of Pennsylvania, because he put Gen. Wayne in his proper relation to the other commanding figures in the infancy of the republic, and showed that it was a Pennsylvania general who planned and executed a feat of arms which had a most important influence in bringing to a successful end the contest for American independence.

A great injustice has been done to Wayne by the appellation "Mad Anthony." It has carried with it the impression that the general was a reckless daredevil, fond of foolhardy exploits, and with no other claim to remembrance by his fellow-countrymen. Such an estimate of Anthony Wayne is far from accurate. Fearless and intrepid he was, indeed, but his courage went hand in hand with coolness, and he executed with energy the plans he had constructed with care and deep knowledge of the science of war. Stony Point was a strongly fortified post on the Hudson, garrisoned by 600 men, commanding the road leading from New England to the southern colonies. Wayne led the attack in person at midnight of July 15, 1779, and captured the place after a brief engagement. He was wounded in the assault, but he lived to receive a vote of thanks and a gold medal from congress. Later in the war, while cooperating with Lafayette at Green Springs, he turned what seemed to be certain defeat into decisive victory. He contributed materially to the capture of Yorktown, and then marched south to the relief of Gen. Greene. He took possession of Charleston, S. C., and thus brilliantly ended his revolutionary career.

But the nation had still more work for Wayne to do. President Washington made him commander of the army, and then began the operations against the Indians of the northwest, who had remained hostile through British influence. It was Gen. Wayne who secured permanent peace with the rebellious tribes and added to the United States a wilderness which is now crowded with populous cities and fertile farms. President Washington knew his worth, and Pennsylvania should hold in grateful remembrance the services of a man who in promptness, celerity and complete command of the science of war was surpassed by few generals of his time.

Neglecting the Public Health.

Controller Larkin is fully justified in his refusal to countersign warrants for vaccination physicians and quarantine officers, if drawn against the special fund transferred to the bureau of health for disinfection purposes. Disinfection is the most potent means to prevent the dissemination of such contagions as scarlatina and diphtheria, to say nothing of smallpox. It is a simple process, easy of accomplishment and comparatively inexpensive. But because the machine was beaten at the last election and because no authority is given to make contracts for an extremely expensive system of disinfection it has been the policy of the authorities to refuse all protection to the public against the spread of infectious diseases.

An attempt has been made even to divert moneys set apart for that very important business to enlarge the payroll for the reward of the political faithful. In fact, that appears to be the only direction in which the machine element can be induced to act. The public health is a matter of no consequence, from the machine point of view, unless it can be made to serve for the compensation of ward workers out of the public treasury.

Good Corn Weather.

It is quite natural that the bears who have had such a tossing in the corn pit should continue fearful that it may be loaded. The price has not fallen in proportion to visible supply and crop prospects and may not do so until the bears have assurance that the trap was really sprung early in the month and is harmless.

Meantime the general public takes its cue for the real situation from the price of futures dated after the maturing maize shall be harvested. Those quotations are notably lower than cash sales for the same months last year. The weather during this month has been all that could be desired in the corn belts, east and west, fervid sunshine with plenty of moisture. Considering the increased acreage this should mean millions of bushels more of corn than last year, increased business for the "granger" railroads and general prosperity for all concerned. This prosperity will not be enhanced by the "corner," nor probably injured by it.

Victor Blue, one of the conspicuous heroes of the Spanish-American war, has just been promoted by the navy department to the command of one of the gunboats attached to the North Atlantic squadron. Lieut. Blue was in command of the gunboat Suwanee during the Spanish war and on a number of occasions penetrated the Spanish lines to obtain information. He displayed remarkable courage and skill as a seaman and his belated promotion is another reminder that it takes a nation a long time to get all the way around in rewarding its heroes.

An invitation to attend the formal opening of the new home of Grit, at Williamsport, is acknowledged. Grit has been enterprising and successful in a marked degree, and after 30 years of vigorous journalism deserves its enlarged and improved quarters.

SAVING LANDMARKS OF COLONIAL TIME

Historical Society Checks the Vandalic Irruption of the Skyscraper.

SPECIAL TO THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, July 18.

It is refreshing, in this age of skyscrapers, to find that in New York there is enough of patriotic sentiment to counterbalance in part the commercial spirit which seeks to put a high building on every available site. The New York Historical association has its hands full trying to save old landmarks. It is not always that a new building is to be put on the site of an old one famous in the annals of the nation, as witness the argument over the suggested demolishing of the old Hall of Records. This sombre old edifice is in City Hall park, and there is no intention of putting up another building in place of it, should it be destroyed. The park will be left open, save for certain structures for the use of the rapid transit tunnel road. There is a new Hall of Records in process of building across Chambers street, facing in Center street, as everyone knows, and the go-ahead up-to-date element in this city cannot see why the old pile should be allowed to exist when its modern usefulness has expired. But here steps in the Historical society. It calls attention to the fact that when the British army took possession of New York, upon its evacuation by the Americans in September, 1776, the old building became the provost jail, with William Cunningham as the provost marshal, appointed by Gen. Sir William Howe. Soon after the capture of Fort Washington gave the entire garrison to the British, and the present Hall of Records, with all other available public buildings at that time, were filled with officers and men as prisoners of war, including those captured previously, in August, 1776. Col. Ethan Allen, the captor of Ticonderoga, was confined in the Hall of Records, and American officers were packed into the upper floors. There are other memories clustered about this fine old building, but those I have mentioned surely should suffice to save it from the picks, crowbars and dynamite of the professional wreckers. The historical society thinks it can save the edifice, and a great many New Yorkers, with pride in their ancient city, wish it success in its public-spirited endeavors.

Bulls in Clover.

The marked activity in so many stocks just now, has given a boom to Wall street. There are more people running about that busy locality this month than has been seen there for a long time previously. The big brokers' establishments are packed with traders or curiosity-mongers, and if one desires to move quickly along the streets he must step into the roadway and fight for progress even there. "These are big times," remarked a casual trader to me this evening. "With a rising market and prospects good, a man can go down to the street with a thousand or two in his roll and make a pile of money." I offer this "tip" as freely as it was given to me.

Fascination of the Latimer Mystery.

Who would have thought, when poor Latimer was shot to death in his bedroom in quiet Brooklyn a little more than a fortnight ago, that the case would have developed into one of the most spectacular sensations of the season? At present it looks as if anybody may have shot Latimer. The sad feature of the case is the bringing to light of all the little indiscretions of a woman who would, perhaps, never have been distressed in this way but for the tragic death of her husband. At the same time, from the point of view of the sensation-monger, this touch of scandal furnishes the spice that makes the mystery absolutely fascinating.

Hetty Green at Oyster Bay.

New York today is wondering what Hetty Green is doing at Oyster Bay. Some New Yorkers feel hurt because the presence of Mrs. Green there has not been noted before this, with a consequent public speculation as to her business. Just to satisfy curiosity to some extent, it is gossiped today that "the richest woman in America" intends to build the largest hotel on Long Island at Oyster Bay, and that she is waiting only until she can get the site at the lowest possible price. As a matter of fact, Hetty Green, in her shabby clothes, and with her unostentatious manner, passed up and down in Oyster Bay all day yesterday with no one the wiser. Today it is known that she was there, and that she has been dodging newspaper reporters and photographers all day. If it were not that President Roosevelt's doings overshadow everything else at Oyster Bay, Hetty Green would have her portrait in several New York papers today. As it is, she must wait until tomorrow.

The Old Byword Pleases Hill.

Ex-Governor David B. Hill got back to New York today after spending last night at Oyster Bay as the guest of William F. Sheehan, who was lieutenant governor of New York when Hill was the chief executive. What they talked about was their private business, but Mr. Hill laughed heartily when some one yelled at him, "I am a Democrat," as he stepped aboard the train to come home. The old battle cry is a byword nowadays, but it pleases the ex-governor to hear it, nevertheless.

No Field Too Barren for Talent.

Walter Thompson, the inspector of police, who gained considerable prominence when stationed in the Tenderloin, by the vigorous way in which he used to "run" the big French ball in Madison Square garden and other public merrymakings, finds the strenuous life, even in Flushing, Long Island, to which he was sent to "the woods" by Police Commissioner Partridge some months ago in the hope of curbing his pernicious activity, but if there is nothing in the way of a "rough house" ready to his hand, Thompson knows how to make one. He pushed into the police court at Flushing, Long Island, today, and this is what he is quoted as yelling at the top of his voice: "Get these thieves and loafers out of here. Hustle those hoodlums out. Show them how we do these things over in New York." Then his men threw all the spectators out bodily, and the court officers called "order," while Thompson smiled triumphantly.

Sympathy for Ill-Governed Russians.

There was a big time in Cooper union tonight. It was a mass meeting called to protest against misgovernment in Russia, and, as it had been well advertised and promised plenty of excitement, a lot of people went there who knew as little about Russia as they do about the internal economy of Mars. Charles Francis Adams, John Crosby and other good speakers made addresses. There was a great deal of cheering, and it is understood that most of those present sympathized heartily with the people of Russia, who are ground under the iron heel of a heartless autocracy. There were many Russians and Poles at the meeting who were deeply interested, but the general impression given by the proceedings was that curiosity was the predominating sentiment.

Kissed 41 Babies, But No Big Girls.

"Big Chief" Devery will not do what he calls "the Hobson act." He went through his district, west of Eighth avenue, last evening, kissing babies and talking pleasantly with their mothers. He kissed 41 babies. One girl, who was not a baby but a very attractive maiden in her teens, put up her lips for Devery. The big man was flattered, but he resisted temptation, telling the girl in his polished way to "Cut that out and go get a good-looking young fellow to kiss you." Devery is making things howl in the Ninth Democratic district, and if he does not carry off the leadership from his rival, Goodwin, he as well as his friends will be astonished and chagrined.

Gotham Easily Dispenses With Water.

There will be a water famine over a large part of uptown New York tomorrow and Sunday. The district along Fifth avenue where Andrew Carnegie's new mansion is situated will be affected, and there will be no water in the houses there higher than the first floor. Upon Morningside Heights and in other high districts there will be no water at all. Occupants of 16,000 buildings will have to do with little water, or none at all, for 48 hours. The trouble is on account of the rapid transit tunnel. A 36-inch high-pressure water main must be moved eight feet to one side to make room for the tunnel, and the water must be shut off during operations. New Yorkers are used to all kinds of inconveniences on account of the subway and they take this shutting off of the water for two days in a most commendable philosophy of spirit. If it were the shutting off of beer instead of water on Sunday there would be a much greater howl.

Kin of Bismarck a Petty Thief.

Karl von Bismarck, who says he is a grand-nephew of the famous chancellor, sailed for Europe today on the White Star liner Cymric. Young Bismarck was arrested in this city a few days ago charged with petty larceny. He told the judge he was Prince Bismarck's grandnephew and that his brother was a judge in Weisbaden, and the judge believed him. So he has gone across the Atlantic through the offices of the German consul in New York and says that when once he gets home he will stay there. He has had enough of American. He likes the country and its people, but his experiences here were not pleasant, and he does not want to come again unless he has plenty of money. He was accused of stealing a piece of carpet, and he says he did it because he was starving.

Keogh's Missing Diamond.

According to a story going about the Rialto today William T. Keogh, manager of the New Star theater here, is wondering what became of the large diamond which was bequeathed to him by the late Henry M. Bennett. It is said that the diamond has disappeared. Every Pittsburgher who knew Mr. Bennett was familiar with this jewel. Mr. Bennett always wore it in his shirt front, and there was a popular understanding that the diamond was worth something more than $2,000. When his will was read it was found that he had bequeathed the stone to Mr. Keogh, who was associated with him and F. M. Gulick in the management of the Star theater. Now, say the gossips of upper Broadway, Mr. Keogh has not the diamond and does not know where it is. Mr. Keogh is yachting just now, so it was impossible to get hold of him today for his version.

What's in a Name, Anyhow?

"E. M. Byres" is what one of the New York papers calls the new amateur golf champion of the Allegheny Country club. But so long as Pittsburgh can claim a phenomenon in the way of a golfer, what matters it how the papers here twist the letters of his name?

Catching More Quakes.

Here is something more from the earthquake man, William A. Eddy of Bayonne, N. J. He says the lake tidal wave at Chicago probably was due to an earthquake. He says that in the last 48 hours slight tremors have affected three of his most sensitive cellar seismographs, and that the Japanese rolling sphere seismograph recorded between 7:05 o'clock Wednesday night and 7:42 yesterday morning a vibration of nearly half an inch from the northwest.

Canine Vandal in Millinery Shop.

When the Misses Hecht, who conduct a millinery store in Fulton street, Brooklyn, opened their shop yesterday morning they found curled up in their handsomest picture hat a little yellow dog. He was chased out of the door and nothing more thought of him until the stock was dusted, when it was discovered that he had chewed 17 Panama hats, 77 aigrettes and 14 picture hats, amounting to $500.

Bessie Bonehill Dying.

Bessie Bonehill, the actress, is dying, according to latest reports here. The superintendent of Deer Hill farm, on Long Island, owned by her, has received a letter from her husband, William Seeley, dated at Portsmouth, England, July 5, in which Mr. Seeley spoke of Miss Bonehill's condition up to that date. He said she was sinking rapidly and had taken no food for the last three weeks, being kept alive by stimulants. Her death is hourly expected. Bessie Bonehill has always been a favorite in Pittsburgh and the news of her condition will cause sincere sorrow there.

Not a Warm Weather Game.

The ping-pong craze has died out in New York as suddenly as it arose. The tables in the Waldorf-Astoria are often disengaged in the evening now, and at other public places where ping-pong was the principal occupation a few weeks ago very little playing is done now. It may be that the comical little game will be revived when cold weather comes again, but it stands little chance in New York in the summer.

Still Rely on the Public.

From the Philadelphia North American.

The Pullman company has surprised its conductors by raising their monthly wages from $10 to $15 over the old rates, although no request for more pay had been made. It is said that the company has recently increased the wages of all classes of its employes except the porters. The company thoughtfully leaves it to the patrons to bring the porters' wages up to a living standard.

Her First Engagement.

From the Oil City Blizzard.

The ancient and time-honored United States steamer Michigan of Erie, has been run into and seriously damaged by a lake freighter. This, to our recollection, is the first engagement in which the Michigan has ever taken even a minor part.

In the Wrong Line.

From the Chicago Record Herald.

Lord Salisbury objected to Sir Thomas Lipton's elevation to the peerage on the ground that he is "a retail tradesman." Lipton should have started a brewery or opened a wholesale whisky house somewhere.

Signs of Harmony.

From the Chicago Citizen-Press.

While the Kansas City Star is doing good at Buzzards Bay and Lake Mohonk, Bro. Stubbs, the Kentucky Post, really seems to be outside, and there should be harmony in the Democratic party.

MONARCH'S LARKS CUT OUT BY WORK

King George of Greece Likely to Get No Vacation During This Year.

By The MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

King George of Greece is very much annoyed. He is confronted with the prospect of having to give up his annual trip to France, and his stay at Aix-les-Bains and at Paris.

For nine months of the year the ruler of Greece leads the most exemplary of lives at Athens, and at his various country places in his dominions, a model of all domestic virtues, a devoted father and the most blameless of husbands. He is likewise on his good behavior when visiting his father at Copenhagen, his friends at the court of Vienna, his sister, the widowed empress of Russia, at St. Petersburg, and his other sister, Queen Alexandra, in England.

But the moment he sets foot in France he becomes an altogether different man. After having paid the visit required by etiquette to President Loubet he devotes himself to the enjoyment of his holiday, and becomes the very antithesis of the king of Greece as known at Athens, and everywhere else in Europe. Save in France. While at Paris he frequents what are known as the "petits theatres," and is a familiar figure behind the scenes, and in the "loges" of the most fascinating "divas" and "divettes," usually winding up the evening after the performance is over by inviting them to supper at the various fashionable restaurants. He is a most popular and familiar figure in that particular portion of the Parisian world which is known as "le monde ou l'on s'amuse," and when he goes off for this three or four weeks' stay at Aix-les-Bains to take the waters which he insists are necessary for his health, usually finds there—it is said by previous arrangement—fair friends who prevent time from hanging too heavy on his hands, and who undertake the task of dispelling that most dreaded of all royal maladies, "ennui."

Usually these charming companions are Parisiennes. But on one or two occasions they have been Americans, though I do not believe that the king will repeat the experiment owing to the fact that one of these trans-Atlantic belles presumed on the strength of her friendship with King George at Aix-les-Bains to visit him at Athens to his intense dismay and perturbation.

Trouble Enough at Home.

The reason why the king will in all likelihood be unable to pay his customary visit to France this year is because the condition of affairs in Greece is sufficiently critical to render it impolitic in the extreme for him to leave the country, and there is even a talk of the marriage of his son Nicholas to the Grand Duchess Helen of Russia, taking place in Greece, instead of at St. Petersburg, in order to enable him to be present at the ceremony.

Not only are there dissensions in the cabinet which render its overthrow imminent, but there has been a sudden and startling revival of brigandage throughout the country, with which the government seems altogether incapable of dealing. Only the other day a young man, the son of a well-known millionaire, was kidnapped right in the town of Alghion and carried off by brigands into the neighboring mountains, and held for ransom, being only liberated on the payment of $20,000 in gold.

It is asserted that this revival of brigandage is largely due to Bulgarian inspiration and support. Everyone knows that Greece aspires to add the Turkish province of Macedonia to her territory, whereas Bulgaria is equally firmly determined that it shall be added to her principality. It is said that the Bulgarian agitators, and the so-called Macedonian committee at Sofia are resolved to create so much trouble in Greece by means of brigand outrages, lawlessness of every kind, and even, perhaps, by the assassination of King George, as to render it impossible for the Hellenic government to intervene or take any action whatsoever in the imminent Macedonian insurrection against Ottoman rule, which is being precipitated by Bulgaria.

The Princess of Monaco.

In view of the talk there has been in the European and American press about the role played by the composer "Isidor de Lara" in the divorce of the prince and princess of Monaco it is only fair to the latter to state that no mention of the man is made in the decree of divorce pronounced against the princess by the supreme court of Monaco and registered and confirmed by the French courts, that is to say, by the tribunal de la Seine at Paris.

According to the terms of the decree just promulgated the divorce has been granted on the demand of the prince on the ground solely and exclusively of desertion, and of the absolute refusal of the princess to lend herself to any attempts of reconciliation on the part of the prince. The decree states that the princess broke off all relations with the prince in the month of August, 1900, and has declined to hold any communication whatsoever with him since, and that although in the month of January, 1901, she spent a few weeks at the palace of Monaco during the absence of the prince, she made a point of leaving it on the eve of his arrival. Her refusal to live with him constitutes a grave offense to the dignity of the prince and it is on this ground that the marriage has been dissolved.

If I lay special stress on this fact it is because I learn that the princess, who retains her title, as well as that of her first husband, the duke of Richelieu, is about to visit this country—that is, the land of her birth—and that there is nothing, at any rate so far as the decree of divorce is concerned, to brand her with the faithlessness to her marriage vows which has been publicly stated and widely believed to have been the cause of her divorce.

German-Catholic Kings.

A correspondent writes to inquire how it is that the reigning house of the kingdom of Saxony should belong to the Roman Catholic faith, whereas all the other sovereign branches of the house of Wettin in Germany, as well as 95 per cent of the population of the kingdom of Saxony, are Lutherans. The fact of the matter is that one of the former rulers of Saxony, Augustus the Strong, became a convert to the Roman Catholic church as an indispensable condition to his acquisition to the crown of Poland. The Albertine branch of the house of Saxony has long since lost the throne of Poland, but still retains its Roman Catholic faith, and although one of the sons of the present king has entered holy orders and become a priest, yet the reigning house has never attempted to favor the Catholic church at the expense of the Lutheran denomination, nor to obtrude its religious convictions upon the people. Indeed, there has never been any charge of clerical intrigue brought against the court of Dresden, and the Lutheran Saxons are perfectly content to have a Roman Catholic king.

In the neighboring kingdom of Wurtemburg the proportion of Protestants to Catholics is equally large. That is to say, considerably over 90 per cent of the people are Lutherans, and owing to the fact that the present king, a Protestant, is without male issue, his throne will be eventually inherited by Duke Albert of Wurtemburg, who is a Roman Catholic, reared among the influences as the heir apparent to the Austrian throne, and married to the latter's sister, that is to say, to an Austrian archduchess.

Of course there are some persons who have raised the question as to whether it would not be well to change the order of succession in Wurtemburg so as to avert the advent of a Roman Catholic prince to the throne. But judging by the experience of the people of Saxony, the Protestant Wurtembergers can view with equanimity the prospect of being ruled over by a Catholic king.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Samuel Philson.

MEYERSDALE, PA., July 18.—(Special.)—Samuel Philson died at his home in Berlin, this county, last night. He was born at Berlin, November 11, 1812, and was the last surviving son of the Hon. Robert Philson who settled in Berlin in 1785. He received his education in the subscription schools until 1826, when he entered a local merchandise establishment. For a time he continued in the mercantile business and later purchased the famous Buffalo Valley farms and conducted them with tenants, making a specialty of raising Aldenney and Jersey cows. In 1836 he established the banking firm of S. Philson & Co., which was the first banking institution in Berlin. In 1868 he founded the first bank in Meyersdale (then Dale City), under the firm name of Philson, Black & Co., now the Citizens National bank, of which he was president at the time of his death. He was mainly instrumental in the building of the Buffalo Valley railroad, now the Berlin branch of the Baltimore & Ohio. When the Citizens National bank was formed here, though almost 80 years of age, Mr. Philson drove from Berlin, a distance of 16 miles, and signed his name to the entire issue of currency, 1,800 times, and drove home the same evening. He was a pupil in the Lutheran Sunday school at Berlin upon its formation in 1825, and continued as pupil, teacher and superintendent for over 76 years. In 1868 he retired from active business. Two sons survive, Samuel E. Philson, cashier of the Citizens National bank of this place; Robert and Burr, engaged in the banking business at Berlin.

Thomas McCann.

Thomas McCann, a well-known resident of the South Side, died last night at his home, No. 501 Brownsville avenue, after a long siege of sickness. He was 66 years old and leaves a widow and five children. Mrs. McCann is the daughter of Thomas Lynch, foreman for the Independent Glass Company on the South Side years ago. Mr. McCann was born in Ireland and came to this country when quite young. He had lived on the South Side district for many years. His death was due to a complication of diseases. He was a member of St. John's Catholic church and an intimate friend of the late Father McTighe. The arrangements for the funeral are not completed, but it is likely he will be buried tomorrow afternoon from St. John's church, South Fourteenth street.

Isaac A. Miller.

Isaac A. Miller, who has been a resident of Wilkinsburg for many years and who was highly esteemed as a citizen, died yesterday afternoon at his home, No. 656 Swissvale avenue. He has been in failing health for several years and his death was not unexpected. He was employed by the Union Switch and Signal Company of Swissvale. As he had been with the company so long his duties had been made light during the past few years on account of the esteem in which he was held by his employers. He is survived by his widow and several grown children.

Mrs. Nancy Jack Wentling.

GREENSBURG, PA., July 18.—(Special.)—The death of Mrs. Nancy Jack Wentling, wife of John P. Wentling, a member of the Westmoreland county bar, occurred this morning. Hezekiah Johnston, 68 years of age, died yesterday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John H. Ryan, No. 1321 Sandusky street, Allegheny. Mr. Johnston was a veteran of the civil war.

PERSONALS.

United States Senator Burrows of Kalamazoo, Mich., was a passenger on the Pennsylvania limited last evening returning to his home from Washington. When Senator Burrows was approached by a reporter at the Union station he immediately turned interviewer, and made many inquiries about the progress of the campaign. He said he thought there is no doubt of Senator Quay succeeding now in harmonizing the factions of the party in this state. He spoke highly of him as a statesman, and added: "He is a shrewd and a very wise man." When asked about the work to come before the next congress, he said it seems probable that the house will pass the ship subsidy bill, which the senate has already passed. As to the outcome of the struggle for Cuban reciprocity, he said he could not foretell the results. "President Roosevelt and Attorney General Knox have entered earnestly in the search for means to remedy the evils of the trusts," he said, "and while no one can say as to the outcome, much may be accomplished by them. I am glad to see that people are giving the president a chance to enjoy undisturbed his vacation at Oyster Bay. He is entitled to the rest after this trying year."

"John J. Sweeney has given up the fight and has gone to New Mexico to grow up with the country." That is the report in the tower end of the Fourth ward. The report in the upper end, where Mr. Sweeney is better known, is expressed this way: "John J. Sweeney has gone down the river as the guest of the pilot on one of the big coal towboats. He will go as far as New Orleans, and will be away a month."

Mrs. Mary J. McGallin and her nephew, Joseph Riter, both of Ellsworth avenue, East End, left last evening for Minneapolis to visit Miss Clara Harrington. Miss Harrington was a bridesmaid at the Riter-Fletcher wedding in this city in February last.

League Games Today.

Chicago at Exposition park.
Philadelphia at New York.
Cincinnati at St. Louis.
Boston at Brooklyn.

That Chicago bunch of trouble makers sneaked into town yesterday morning, bringing with them that same old hoodoo. In the afternoon they made a call at Exposition park, and while 2,070 people were watching them they sneaked off with a victory that Fred Clarke had been counting on, but missed by the skin of his teeth. To make their act more daring they actually had the effrontery to shut our heroes out, the final score being Chicago 2, Pittsburgh 0.

The hoodoo in this case was a young man named Jack Taylor, who has proven his right to that title on two or three other occasions this season. Taylor is a wiry little chap who doesn't seem to have much more than a good sound head on him, and that's what makes matters more exasperating. The balls he served up did not seem to be speedy, nor did they look puzzling, but they were, just the same, and, try hard as they might, the Pirates could not get that ball safe. Of course, they did try hard, and that was all the good it did them.

The Pirates' Only Chance.

There was only one stage during the entire afternoon when the champions had a ghost of a show and that was in the third inning, when all corners of the diamond were occupied, yet not a tally was scored. Chief Zimmer had the chance of a lifetime to make himself a hero in the eyes of that crowd, but he ingloriously fell down just when he should have been up and doing. It was tough on the Pirates as well as tough on the crowd, but it only goes to show that Johnny Taylor was more than a match for the Pirate batters, and to the pitcher goes the laurel wreath instead of to the chief.

For some reason known only to Nicholas Young there was no regular umpire on hand to preside over the afternoon's festivities and when playing time arrived Managers Clarke and Selee got their heads together and decided on two players, Tannehill as the Pittsburgh representative and Chance for Chicago, and it is only fair to state that they performed their duties well. Only one kick was registered and that was in the second inning, when Chance called Bransfield out at first, but the Pirate leader was in the wrong, as the runner was clearly out.

Eddie Doheny was on the pitching slab for the champions and outside of the first two innings he showed very clever work and his support was all that could be asked. The game was rather a listless one, owing largely to the fact that the local batters could not do any hitting and that took the life out of them. The visitors, on the other hand, put up a very fast game and played great ball all the way, the work of the infield being particularly fast and clever.

Chicago Got a Running Start.

The visitors started off with one run in the first inning when Slagle, who was first at bat, got a base on balls, went to second on Williams' sacrifice and scored on Menefee's neat single to right. The runner might have been caught at the plate, but Wagner was slow in handling the ball. In the second Jacobs led off with a hit, went to third on Schaefer's two-bagger to right and scored on Miller's single to center. Schaefer also tried to score on this hit, but was neatly nipped at the plate.

The Pirates' only chance for a score was in the third, when with one out Wagner reached first on Williams' drop of Miller's throw, went to second on Ritchey's single and the pair worked the double steal. Conroy got a base on balls and it was up to Zimmer, but the chief was not equal to the emergency and killed all chances by a fly which Slagle neatly gobbled in. Score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

The Cincinnati club has released Dummy Hoy and that action is a surprise since it's a fact that the dummy played the best ball of any man on the team. Hoy's successor, secured from Baltimore, will play Hoy's place in the outfield.

What a handy man that Menefee is to have on a team. Jack is not only a first-class pitcher, but a coming good outfielder and a timely batter. The Menefee brothers are playing ball for a good many years, but he is not all in yet by a long sight and can give the majority of the youngsters a yard or two and beat them out.

Eddie Poole, the ex-Pirate, joined the Cincinnati team on Thursday and accompanied the Reds on their trip to St. Louis. The Cincinnati people think well of Poole and their confidence in this case is not apt to be misplaced, as the Malvern boy is a first-class all-around player, who knows how to field and bat as well as he does how to pitch.

Today will be the last opportunity local lovers will have of a glimpse at the champions for a whole month. Tonight both teams leave for Chicago to play a Sunday game, then the Pirates journey to St. Louis and from that point they jump to Brooklyn and open a series with the eastern clubs. Manager Clarke will take all of his players on the trip. Today's game starts at 3 o'clock.

"Oh, well, they can't win all of them," remarked a grandstander as he pushed his way through the crowd at the conclusion of the game. "Besides Taylor deserved a victory because he pitched a remarkably steady game."

Secretary Young, whose work it is to assign the umpires, deserves a vote of censure for his failure to have an official here yesterday. It is never satisfactory to either the spectators or the players when two players are called on to preside over contests. It is a hard task for the players selected, as they are apt to make enemies if they do not give their own clubs the best of all close decisions.

There was a report from Cleveland yesterday that the Pittsburgh club would take the Baltimore franchise in the American league and transfer it here. President Dreyfuss, while not in sympathy with the move made by Brush and Freedman, laughed at the Cleveland reports. There is no danger of Mr. Dreyfuss jumping the National league unless some radical move is made against the Pittsburgh club.

Umpire Charley Power, who is on his way from Cincinnati to Brooklyn and stopped over to spend a day with his family, was a spectator at the game, but kept under cover until the contest was started. "I was not ordered to work here and would be foolish to offer my services, because if anything wrong turned up the league officials would not excuse me, as I had no business there," said he, and he was right.

When Tannehill appeared back of the bat yesterday and donned the mask and chest protector a preliminary to umpiring back of the bat, he was given a warm reception by the occupants of the boxes. All kinds of advice was handed out to him and he was asked to call out the batteries, but Jesse is a modest young man and refused to heed the request, although it is the duty of an umpire to do so.

"Keep afraid to take off your cap," yelled a bleacherite at Menefee as the player made his way out to right field at the start of the game, and so he was, because Jack has a top piece that is as shy of hair as a billiard ball. The double steal worked by Wagner and Ritchey in the fourth inning was one of the few plays that gave the spectators a chance to enthuse, and the opportunity was not lost sight of.

There Was a Fine Battle Between Pitchers at Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., July 18.—Brooklyn defeated Boston at Washington park today in a ten-inning game by the close score of 2 to 1, the home team making the winning tally on safe hits by Kesler and Ahearn. Score:

FRANCHISE FORFEITED.

Ban Johnson Acts at Baltimore—Ely to Play There—Peace Prospects Are Ended.

BALTIMORE, MD., July 18.—The Baltimore franchise was formally forfeited today at a meeting of the directors of the American league held here. As soon as a new company is formed the franchise will be given to them. Local people are being interested and the names of some of the stockholders will soon be announced. Johnson is now heading his energies to the formation of a new team.

McFarland of Chicago will play in the outfield and another good centerfielder will be procured. Ely has been secured from Washington for shortstop. Gilbert will be put on second and Williams will play third. A new manager will also be signed. Johnson intimated tonight that the recent attack of the National league had destroyed all prospects of peace, and that the fight would be to a finish.

CAPTAIN BROWN'S AIRLIGHT.

Got an Awful Start, but Won Two-Year-Old Race Neatly.

CHICAGO, ILL., July 18.—Washington Park's track was again in its normal condition, knee deep in mud, today, and as such conditions were not anticipated when entries were made, the card was riddled with scratches and the original fifth race was declared off and a 6½ furlong selling race substituted. The sport was without especial feature, except for the good exhibition by Airlight in the 2-year-old race. Capt. Brown's filly broke last out of the field, but moved gradually forward and challenging Emfr in the run home, beat the Corrigan filly handily. Two strong favorites met defeat in Trentham and C. B. Campbell. Weather cloudy; track heavy. Summary:

JEFFRIES IN BAD SHAPE.

The Big Champion Is Overtrained and Is Showing Spells of Sickness.

OAKLAND, CAL., July 18.—Rumors were flying thick and fast round town today, to the effect that Champion Jeffries was sick at his quarters as a result of overtraining. This gave rise to the report that Jeffries was out of condition, and that he was laid up for repairs. It was pointed out that the champion is away below his normal weight. Trainer Delaney admits that Jeffries has worked too hard.

Jeffries arose at 2 o'clock today, and showed up at the gymnasium at 2 o'clock. He said: "I am not sick. I was tired after being at the theater last night. I have cut out my work today and will just take gymnasium exercises. I'll be ready for the fight."

Jeffries fell asleep yesterday while being rubbed down.

BIKE SPRINTERS DOING FAST WORK

THE GRAND CIRCUIT RIDERS ARE NOT FOR FIRST PLACE.

Lester Wilson Is With the Crowd and So Is "Plugger" Bill Martin, Who Created a Sensation in Australia—Will Arrive Monday.

The contest for first place honors on the grand circuit are beginning to get very interesting. There have been three meets up to the present time and one is scheduled for Atlantic City this week. Kramer, the champion of last year, is riding better than ever and he has succeeded in capturing some firsts in the championship races, but only after the hardest kind of riding, with Lawson and the others close after him. In the championship race in the last meet at Providence the finish was so close that it was impossible to tell from the stands who was leading over the tape. With this kind of racing and with the riders who have been entered in the grand circuit meet to be held at the Colosseum track in Allegheny on Monday evening, the followers of cycle racing in this city can be assured of the finest riding that has ever been seen here.

The riders, with their managers and outfits, will probably not arrive in Pittsburgh before Monday morning, but they will come in early in the morning, so that the riders will have an opportunity of getting on the track before the races in the evening. Lester Wilson, the fast local man, who early in the season started to ride behind pace, is with the bunch of circuit followers. Wilson did fast work behind the machines, but his lack of experience in following the big machines was a handicap that told heavily against him and when the grand circuit opened he decided to try for the sprints. He is with the most notable aggregation of cycle racers that has ever been brought together in this country, but even at that he has been making a good showing.

"Plugger Bill" Martin, who has a long string of successes in Australia, is with the circuit riders, and with him, too, is Beauchamp, who is one of the best-known professionals in Australia. Both of these men are fast, and when they finally round into shape will make the best of them ride hard for first honors.

The entries for the amateur events which will be held in connection with the grand circuit meeting at the Colosseum track on Monday night will close at 6 o'clock this evening.

NO FREIGHT ON KANAWHA.

West Virginia Coal Strike Has Deprived Boats of Their Usual Trade.

Reports from down the Ohio river indicate that the coal strike in West Virginia is affecting the river trade much more seriously than is generally supposed. On the Kanawha river, on which probably more coal is carried than any other except the Monongahela, practically nothing is doing in this line. Captain Gordon Greene of the Greenwood, which was in port yesterday from Charleston, is authority for the statement that the freight business on the Kanawha is almost at a standstill, owing to the coal strike. The coal that was on hand before the strike has all been sent out and the river is now full of empties, waiting for the digging to begin again. This state of affairs is the more unfortunate because there is plenty of shank water in the Kanawha and at this season the boats are usually very busy. A large number of tow boats are taking advantage of the wait to lay up for repairs. While the freight business is very slack, the number of passengers carried is larger than ever before, which serves to keep up the activity among the packets.

News of the Rivers.

The steamer Dewey, owned by Captain T. P. Sims, will leave Carondelet in about a week fully repaired.

The towboats Cruiser, Enterprise, Voyager and Stella Moren arrived from the south with tows of empties yesterday.

Captain Charles Greene, who has been off his feet with a bad ankle several weeks, is able to be on deck on crutches.

The steamer Columbia was taken out of her trade between Charleston and Gallipolis on account of lack of business, and is laid up at Charleston.

The City of Wheeling left Wheeling Thursday to engage in her new trade between Cincinnati and Madison. Captain George Urquhart is in command.

The new packet Evergreen, of the Greene line, is rapidly nearing completion at Parkersburg. It will run on the Kanawha from Charleston to Winfield.

The towboat Enterprise, belonging to the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Company, is now at Elizabeth for repairs. She will have an entire new hull.

STEEL COMBINE CUTS THE COST OF PRODUCTION

Economies Afforded by Consolidation Have Cheapened the Raw Material.

MORE SAVINGS TO COME

But First the Corporation Must See Its Way Clear to Go Ahead With Improvements — Handicapped by Litigation.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 18.—A financier in close touch with the inside workings of the United States Steel Corporation today said the increased earnings of the corporation are due largely to the heavy decrease in the cost of producing raw material. He pointed out that the cost of producing iron ore is far below what it was before the combine was organized.

The operations of the steel combine in the iron ore regions have undergone a complete revolution within the past 12 months, and a similar policy is being followed in the coal and limestone districts controlled by the United States Steel Corporation. While many economies have been introduced in the finishing departments, cost of production will be much further reduced when the corporation sees its way clear to go ahead with contemplated additions and improvements.

The litigation in which the company is now involved has greatly hampered the combine from carrying out its plans in this respect. Notwithstanding the fact that it owns vast tracts of coal lands, the United States Steel Corporation does not produce sufficient coal to meet its requirements. It buys a large amount of coal from other companies, particularly the Pittsburgh Coal Company. In this connection it is said that it will not be a great while before the combine will be producing all the coal it needs, which will add materially to its earning capacity.

There is considerable speculation as to what the earnings of the steel corporation will be this month. Conservative steel men place the figure around $13,000,000.

Business in Europe Picking Up.

A banker, who returned today from Europe said: "Conditions in all parts of Europe are gradually improving. The people are beginning to realize over there that the much-talked-of prosperity of the United States is not artificial. They are also arriving at the conclusion that this is the producing, manufacturing and financial country of the world. The settlement of the South African trouble has served to stimulate business more than anything else."

The New Sharon Plants.

It is announced that all of the plants of the Sharon Steel Company now building will be completed and in operation by the first of next year. The Sharon Company now has on its payroll nearly 5,000 men, and when the new plants are in operation the company will give employment to about 6,000 men and produce in the neighborhood of 300,000 tons of finished steel a year. In iron and steel circles the Sharon Steel Company is regarded as the best equipped, as well as the most modern, plant in the country. It is an absolutely independent company in the matter of raw supplies.

Union Pacific's Bond Project.

Considerable interest is felt in the financial district in the $31,000,000 of 4 per cent participating bonds which the Union Pacific directors have announced will be issued on account of the Oregon Short Line Company. The fact that these bonds are accepted by cash or an equal amount of the stock of the Northern Securities Company gave rise at first to the report that the Union Pacific has sold the remainder of its Northern Securities stock. An official of the Union Pacific denied this report, saying the company still owns all the stock of the Northern Securities Company it has ever held. At the date of its last report the Union Pacific owned $78,108,000 par value of the stock of Northern Pacific. These holdings were afterward exchanged at the rate of 115 for 100 for stock of Northern Securities Company.

Gates Not Yet in Control.

Harris, Gates & Co. are asking for proxies on Colorado Fuel and Iron to be voted at the annual meeting on August 20. The books close on July 31. This is taken as an indication that Mr. Gates and his followers have not as yet secured control of Colorado Fuel and Iron, as has been intimated. The stock sold up to 98 today, closing at 97¾.

Forecast of Bank Statement.

If the estimates of known movements of money are correct the statement of the Associated Banks for the week ending tomorrow will be a favorable one. It is figured that the banks gained over $1,000,000 on all accounts. Of that amount about $2,700,000 represents a balance for the local banks in their operations with the interior. In addition they gained $1,922,000 from the sub-treasury. The heavy increase in currency receipts from the west this week seems to make conclusive the argument that the money shipped to the interior last week did not indicate that the withdrawals were in connection with the movement of grain to the seaboard. Bankers who carry on an extensive correspondence with western banks are of the opinion that the initial shipment of currency for grain-moving purposes will not be made until the latter part of next month.

Pressed Steel Car Finances.

The directors of the Pressed Steel Car Company will meet in about a week to take action on the regular quarterly dividends of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock and 1 per cent on the common. It is expected that the regular dividends will be declared. The statement of earnings for the six months ended June 30 will be issued at the coming meeting. A person said to be in close touch with the affairs of the Pressed Steel Car Company says the earnings for the period mentioned will show over 11 per cent on the common stock, or at the rate of 22 per cent a year.

Wall Street Enjoys Another Active Day

PENNSYLVANIA STOCKS AMONG GOOD LEADERS

Strong Rumor Afloat That That Company Has Gained Control of Reading.

SALES OVER A MILLION

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 18.—Today was another animated day in the stock market, with aggregate sales of over a million shares. The strength and variety of the market had no new development to account for them, but the large capital which has embarked upon the project of putting up prices and inviting an outside following pursued their operations with apparently unabated confidence. These operators are apparently firm in the conviction that the public sentiment of the country has arrived at that stage of confidence in the success of the year's crops, the continued prosperity of all lines of industry and the insufficiency of the money resources of the country that the example of a vigorous upward movement of stocks is all that is needed to induce them to come into the market and buy stocks freely and boldly, thus affording a medium for the liquidation of the holdings which the capitalists are taking on in the rise.

Pennsy the Leader.

The leaders of today's market were Pennsylvania and affiliated railroads. Southern Railway was brought into the movement in a way to make it appear that closer relations than those now existing might be in prospect between the two properties. The apparent determination of the coal miners' convention not to make their strike general was given as a reason for the aggressive buying of Pennsylvania and all the seaboard soft coal carriers, and there was in addition a very circumstantial assertion that the Pennsylvania had secured control of the Reading. It is no new thing in Wall street that, with the approaching dissolution of the voting trust now in control of Reading, there was a large absorption of the stock with a view to controlling the board of directors, and it has often been asserted that Pennsylvania was one of the parties to this contest. No authoritative information on the subject was forthcoming today. The accompanying advance of New York Central was held to signify an acquiescence in the new control on the part of the Vanderbilt interests.

Banks Gaining in Cash.

The banks have apparently gained cash this week to the extent of over $4,000,000, of which $1,622,000 was on sub-treasury operations and the rest by direct receipts by express from the interior, showing the temporary nature of last week's unseasonable demand from the interior. New York exchange at Chicago rose to a premium of 15 cents. The grangers did not share fully in the day's strength, but they were by no means depressed, in spite of the unwelcome rains in the crop regions and one or two unfavorable weekly reports of earnings, including a decrease of $12,000 for Missouri Pacific, $17,000 for Chicago Great Western, $26,000 for Denver & Rio Grande and $93,000 for Chesapeake & Ohio compared with last year's similar period. The market closed firm, but below the best except in a few cases. The speculative bonds were active, but the general bond market was steady. Total sales, par value, $3,626,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Local Stocks Were More Active, but the Market Was Irregular

HEAVY SELLING ORDER CAUSED QUITE A BREAK

Marketing of 2,600 Crucible Steel Preferred Sent the Price to 85.

U. S. STEELS WERE DULL

Pittsburgh Coal Common Fairly Active and Higher—River Coal Lower. Fire Proofing Issues Active—Two Banks Advanced.

The volume of business transacted on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was larger than it has been for some time, and the market was generally more active, though the closing changes showed considerable irregularity in the movements. The feature of the day was the heavy selling of Crucible Steel preferred, a prominent house marketing about 2,000 shares out of 2,600. These orders were sufficient to break the price from 85½ to 85, but at the close the stock had steadied and advanced ½ to 85¾, sales and bid, leaving the loss for the day only ¼. The low point, 85, is the lowest the stock has brought in months. The selling is supposed by some to be for the former president of the company, but this is only surmise. The common, while much less active, was a shade steadier and advanced ⅛ to 21¼, sales and bid, less than 400 shares changing hands. The United States Steel stocks were dull, only the common selling. Of that about 400 shares changed hands and the price closed ¼ higher at 40¾, though that was below the top for the day. The preferred was quiet at 90 bid and 90¾ asked, both ex-dividend 1¾ per cent. It did not sell. Evidently the public does not know what to do about the stocks of the big corporation. Its magnificent statements have been counterbalanced by situation, and criticism to such an extent that the average trader does not know what to expect. Ordinarily so much adverse criticism and litigation would have placed the stock in the inactive list for a long time, and only the remarkable showings made concerning it have prevented this. Judging from apparently reliable figures, however, the insiders are not troubled much, for according to President Schwab's affidavit, filed in court Tuesday, he is the individual owner and holder of 61,602 shares of the preferred and 51,928 shares of the common. The list of stockholders at the date of closing of the books for the meeting at which action was taken on the stock conversion plan showed Mr. Schwab a holder of 50,001 shares of the preferred and 5,000 shares of the common. From this it appears that Mr. Schwab has increased his holdings by 11,601 shares of the preferred and 76,528 shares of the common stock. It is possible others have followed a similar course.

In the remainder of the list, Pittsburgh Coal common was the leader, 600 shares changing hands. At the close the stock showed a net gain of ⅜. The preferred was dull and unchanged, and this was true of River Coal preferred. River Coal common sold for the first time in several days and went down to 12⅝, but rallied to 12¾ at the finish. The failure of the effort to get the bituminous miners to strike was considered bullish, though there was never much fear of such a thing. Fire Proofing issues were quite steady and fractionally higher until near the close, when they reacted and closed ⅛ lower than Thursday. Banks were quiet but firm, and two made good advances. Window Glass was dull and somewhat easier. Bonds were quiet, Brewing 6s losing ½ at 110¾ for $11,000.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company announces a plan for financing its purchases of Northern Pacific and Southern Pacific stock by having the Oregon Short Line railroad issue $31,000,000 of 4 per cent bonds, to which Union Pacific stockholders may subscribe at 90 and interest to the extent of 50 per cent, par value, of their holdings.

The Mercer County Trust Company expects to begin business August 1. The company is to absorb the Mercer County National bank, and take over the greater portion of the capital of the Farmers and Mechanics National bank. The latter, however, will continue to do business for a time under the present management. Later it also may be absorbed. All that now remains to complete the deal is the liquidation of the Mercer County bank. The directors meet this afternoon. The directors of the Farmers and Mechanics bank have approved the plans by which their stock is to be transferred.

Brown Bros. & Co. of New York, Philadelphia and Boston, recommend as a safe investment and offer for sale at par and interest, $4,200,000 6 per cent gold timber certificates, maturing 1905 to 1912. Interest payable February 1 and August 1, at Baltimore and New York. The certificates are issued in coupon form and are redeemable at 105 and interest on any coupon date, on 60 days' notice. The Maryland Trust Company of Baltimore is the trustee. These certificates are a part of an issue of $8,000,000 against 883,000 acres of land and about 6,000,000,000 feet of commercial timber. Of the total issue $1,800,000 have been disposed of at private sale, or withdrawn for investment. The certificates give the holder to a beneficial interest in the contract of the Kirby Lumber Company with the Houston Oil Company, which contract has been assigned by the oil company and is held for the benefit of the timber certificate holders. The 883,000 acres of timber lands of the Houston Oil Company, against which the $6,000,000 6 per cent gold certificates have been issued, are located in Louisiana and Texas, principally between the Neches and Sabine rivers. Prof. Hill of the United States geological bureau says of the lands: "Nearly all covered by these $883,000 acres is underlined by certain well defined oil bearing strata, which was available and apt to be productive in many places. Hopkins & Scott, certified public accountants, in their report of the Kirby Lumber Company for the three months ended March 31, 1902, state that the net sales of lumber amounted to 50,000,000 feet, for which $621,822 was received. Including miscellaneous sales, the total net sales amounted to $850,501. After deducting for stumpage, logging and depreciation, the net income of the company for this period was $138,071.

Wall Street Pointers.

It looks as if the bull crowd have shifted from Missouri Pacific to Manhattan.

Americans were strong in London. United States Steel being in special favor there.

There is talk of a 3 per cent dividend basis for Norfolk & Western common in the autumn.

It is said the St. Joe & Grand Island will probably pass into the hands of Kansas City Southern.

I hear Manhattan, Brooklyn Rapid Transit and Metropolitan are the best purchases, as they are to be moved up.—S. B. Post, Jr.

An attempt to scare People Gas was abandoned on the belief that the insiders were not in the market and would not take any attitude pending a decision on 75c gas.

Southern Pacific looks as though it were starting for its recent high price. Close to 60 ppon tells me that the stock will have a big rise. It has a 70 look.—F. M. Dick.

The New York money market for call funds continues easy and the rate for time money shows a slight inclination to ease off, offerings being a little freer than for some time past.

Pennsylvania and New York Central were particularly strong on good investment buying due to a belief that these stocks had not advanced sufficiently in proportion with other stocks of this class.

We think the market has had a pretty good advance during the week and is entitled to some reaction, which would, good stocks, in our judgment, can be safely bought for higher prices.—Lounsbery.

I believe that stocks like Pennsylvania, Norfolk & Western, Atchison, Union Pacific and Baltimore & Ohio can all be bought on all declines. This bull market is only getting fairly under way and we ought to see much higher prices in the next month.—Evans.

The buying of Wheeling & Lake Erie was called good and it is said that the people who had hitherto confined their attention to Wabash and Missouri Pacific cut in on both of those issues on the theory that they would be important beneficiaries under the Gould scheme.

The report published in the morning that there was a possibility of Reading passing the dividend on the first preferred in order to cover up the actual ownership of Reading stock, and the falling off in the coal trade, due to the coal strike, rather checked speculation in the Readings and caused some little realizing in the first preferred.

Wall Street Pointers.

It looks as if the bull crowd have shifted from Missouri Pacific to Manhattan.

Americans were strong in London. United States Steel being in special favor there.

There is talk of a 3 per cent dividend basis for Norfolk & Western common in the autumn.

The report that Reading's dividend on its first preferred may be suspended is not believed.

It is said the St. Joe & Grand Island will probably pass into the hands of Kansas City Southern.

I hear Manhattan, Brooklyn Rapid Transit and Metropolitan are the best purchases, as they are to be moved up.—S. B. Post, Jr.

An attempt to scare People Gas was abandoned on the belief that the insiders were not in the market and would not take any attitude pending a decision on 75c gas.

Southern Pacific looks as though it were starting for its recent high price. Close to 60 ppon tells me that the stock will have a big rise. It has a 70 look.—F. M. Dick.

The New York money market for call funds continues easy and the rate for time money shows a slight inclination to ease off, offerings being a little freer than for some time past.

Pennsylvania and New York Central were particularly strong on good investment buying due to a belief that these stocks had not advanced sufficiently in proportion with other stocks of this class.

We think the market has had a pretty good advance during the week and is entitled to some reaction, which would, good stocks, in our judgment, can be safely bought for higher prices.—Lounsbery.

I believe that stocks like Pennsylvania, Norfolk & Western, Atchison, Union Pacific and Baltimore & Ohio can all be bought on all declines. This bull market is only getting fairly under way and we ought to see much higher prices in the next month.—Evans.

The buying of Wheeling & Lake Erie was called good and it is said that the people who had hitherto confined their attention to Wabash and Missouri Pacific cut in on both of those issues on the theory that they would be important beneficiaries under the Gould scheme.

The report published in the morning that there was a possibility of Reading passing the dividend on the first preferred in order to cover up the actual ownership of Reading stock, and the falling off in the coal trade, due to the coal strike, rather checked speculation in the Readings and caused some little realizing in the first preferred.

LAST SERVICES IN AN HISTORIC OLD STRUCTURE

Second United Presbyterian Edifice Closes Tomorrow for All Time.

GREAT MEETING IN TENT

Endeavorers Asked to Turn Out on Monday Night at Dinwiddie Street and Center Avenue—Services Will Be Held in Two Parks Tomorrow.

Another of the ancient churches of the downtown district will make way to morrow for the inroads of modern progress. The Second United Presbyterian church edifice in Sixth avenue will be closed for all time tomorrow evening after the usual services. The congregation will worship in its new edifice at the corner of Negley and Stanton avenues next week. The farewell services in the old building tomorrow will be impressive. Invitations have been sent out to all former members of the church. The Rev. D. S. Littell, pastor, will preach a special sermon for the occasion. It had been hoped that the new edifice would have been completed several weeks ago, but owing to the rough weather during the winter, and other unavoidable delays, this could not be.

The Presbyterians of the presbyteries of Pittsburgh and Allegheny are energetically working for the success of the outdoor services.

Great Outdoor Gathering.

The huge tent at the corner of Dinwiddie street and Center avenue will be the scene Monday night of one of the largest outdoor meetings held in one place this summer. The tent committee has forwarded the following invitations to Christian Endeavor societies of the two cities, requesting them to attend.

Dear Endeavorers: The tent committee of the presbyterial evangelistic committee entreat you to bring your entire society, or as many members as possible, to the tent, corner of Dinwiddie street and Center avenue, Pittsburgh, Monday, July 21, at 7:15 p. m., to help in the meetings that night and to arrange for choir and helpers each evening of the summer. Will your society agree to provide the music—organist, precentor and choir—for one evening of the summer? This is the opportunity for Presbyterian Endeavorers to prove anew their claim to the record of the two presbyteries by helping in a needy, very needy, time.

The Park Meetings.

The Rev. Dr. S. Edward Young, spurred on by last Sunday's phenomenal success, will conduct two big tent meetings tomorrow, one in West park, Allegheny, and the other in Schenley. The former will be held at 6:15 and the latter at 7:30. The Homestead Library band will appear in full force with the following arranged program: March, "Adeste Fideles" (Chambers); grand fantasie, "Providence" (Tobani); cornet solo, "Inflammatus" (Rossini), E. A. Becker; paraphrase, "Nearer, My God, to Thee" (Longey); transcription, "Pleyels Hymn" (Ripley).

Pastor Young will follow with a brief address and hurry away to the meeting at Schenley park. A feature of the services will be the use of a stereopticon, and the pictures taken by Pastor and Mrs. Young in Palestine a few weeks ago and in their journeys in Africa, Asia and Europe will be shown.

PITTSBURGHER INVENTS NEW SMOKE COMSUMER

Locomotive Engineer Evolves an Idea Which a Company Has Been Formed to Develop.

The Pittsburgh Fuel Saving and Furnace Company has been formed by Pittsburghers to develop a smoke consumer system, which has been put to the practical test, both on locomotives and in stationary power plants. The inventor is F. J. Hughes, a locomotive engineer of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. He is now in the east to deal with representatives of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad at Baltimore, and the Pennsylvania railroad at Philadelphia, on a plan to equip locomotives on both roads with the system.

The Baltimore & Ohio had it under test for several months in the Pittsburgh yards, a passenger shifting engine being equipped with the system.

In anticipation of the completion of its big train shed at Union station, the Pennsylvania is anxious to come to some decision as to a smoke consumer and the Hughes system is said to have an inside position. The Pennsylvania has been using coke along its Liberty avenue tegminals, to satisfy the Pittsburgh authorities, but this has been unsatisfactory. Now the officials of the railroad are figuring on meeting conditions with the great trainshed completed. Without means of getting rid of the smoke, this great structure will be pregnated with a suffocating atmosphere.

The inventors of the Hughes system started his research with the idea of arranging for engines to steam more freely. This led to accidental discovery that the smoke can be done away with. It has been estimated that the Hughes system effects a saving of 20 per cent in fuel, and that the system will, if desired, obviate the use of automatic stokers.

The system has been installed as an experiment on a locomotive at the Duquesne steel works of the Carnegie Steel Company. The new United Ice Company plant at Hazelwood has been equipped with it, also the Twelfth street mills of the American Steel and Wire Company, the Fitzsimons building in Fourth avenue and the Diamond Ice Company plant at Braddock.

The Pittsburgh Fuel Saving and Furnace Company has been chartered in New Jersey through the Pittsburgh office of the New Jersey Corporation Guarantee and Trust Company, with an initial paid-up capital of $100,000. A plant is to be erected in a short time, plans for which are incomplete. The officers of the company are E. J. Hughes, president; W. K. Brown, secretary; C. K. Bruce, treasurer, and George M. Hughes, general manager.

LEFT HUSBAND FOR A MAN SHE LOVED BETTER

Mrs. White's Disappearance With Family Funds Led to Divorce Suit.

SOLD HOUSEHOLD GOODS

Witnesses Testify Wife Said She Thought "More of Dan McClelland's Little Finger Than Mr. White's Whole Body."

"I think more of Dan McClelland's little finger than I do of Mr. White's whole body," is what Mrs. Anna Mary White is sworn to have said. Her husband, William White, sued her for divorce. The testimony in the case was filed yesterday. The couple were married September 16, 1895, and lived together until January 7, 1900, when the respondent is said to have deserted White.

White testified his wife told him she was going to leave him. He told her she had better consider the matter, and she said she had. She is said to have told her husband that she loved another man and would rather live with him on bread and butter, and dress in calico, than live with somebody she did not love, and have plenty.

White says that after their separation he met his wife, when she told him there was no use arguing or discussing the matter, she would not live with him again. White testified that he kept his home open to her until last April, when she took advantage of this, sold the furniture and drew their savings out of the bank, then disappeared. A witness swore to Mrs. White's alleged affections for Dan McClelland.

Denies Court's Jurisdiction.

Mrs. Caroline F. Smith has filed with Judge R. S. Fraser a plea denying the jurisdiction of the court to appoint viewers for the condemnation of additional property supposed to be needed for jail purposes. Next Wednesday morning is fixed for hearing the arguments. The petition of Mrs. Smith sets forth that the county has no lawful right to appropriate any part of the defendant's property, and that the court has no jurisdiction, in the proceeding in that the prerequisite preliminals to the entertainment of jurisdiction as prescribed by the act of June 1, 1883, have not occurred and do not exist.

Wants Railroad Enjoined.

Edward H. Binns, trading as C. G. Hussey & Co., yesterday filed a bill in equity against the Monongahela Connecting Railroad Company to restrain it from interfering with the construction of a six-inch water line, by the plaintiff, under its tracks. The plaintiff says it is necessary to obtain water from the Monongahela river for the company's copper works on Second avenue. It is also alleged that upon July 16, the workmen of the railroad company drove those of the plaintiff company away, and have since prevented the laying of the pipe.

WILL LOOK AFTER EXPIRED FRANCHISES

Those Unused and Granted Over Two Years Ago Are Forfeited

The committee appointed by common council to investigate the relations between the city and corporations doing business under city franchises met at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in common council to investigate the relations between Dr. G. W. McNeil of the Twenty-first ward as chairman. By virtue of leading the list of appointments on the committee W. C. Reitz of the Thirty-fifth ward was to have been chairman, but he declined the honor. Dr. McNeil is also chairman of the joint committee on corporations.

Supt. John Battles of the bureau of highways and sewers had been asked to appear before the committee with a list of the city streets that are occupied by street car companies. He told the committee that there is no record of those streets, and that it was compiled through the exertions of himself and his assistant superintendent, and he desired to revise it. He was told to do so and present it at the next meeting of the committee Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

There was some discussion as to the number of franchises granted for certain streets and not used, the impression being that some of them have not yet reached the two-year limit. Clerk W. C. Gearing will furnish the committee with that information and those forfeited will be made public.

After some general discussion of the objects of the investigation the committee adjourned to meet next Wednesday.

FINANCIALLY STRONG.

Hibernians Largest Order in One Church and of One Nationality.

DENVER, COL., July 18.—President Keating of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in his annual report said the order was the strongest body in the world, comprised of one nationality and belonging to the one religion. The finances of the order, he said, are in good condition. President Keating recommended that more officers be provided by the organization of the country into six districts, each to be under the charge of one of the national directors. He urged that Irish history be taught in the parochial schools.

The anger of the delegates was aroused somewhat today by a statement contained in a printed circular distributed at the door of the convention hall to the effect that the order had not kept its promise to Ireland. The statement was that the rank and file had been duped and misled by its leaders on the instruction of the Clan-na-Gael.

Friends of the military branch of the order are agitating the appointment of an official head with the title of adjutant, who shall be the intermediary between the uniform division and the president of the order in the settlement of all matters affecting the military.

Biggest Break Yet In Clothing Prices!

We know, and the manufacturers know, that it is better to sell goods at reductions, and even at a loss, than to pack them away and pay the costs of storage and insurance, lose interest on the investment and run the risk of changing fashions and markets. We further know that we can better afford to make sacrifices to turn dull July into a month of brisk activity than to endure stagnation. It is for these reasons, then, that we have inaugurated this Mark-Down Clothing Sale that is attracting such wide-spread attention. Nothing could be plainer or more sweeping. We've simply

Divided Our Entire Stock of Men's Suits Into 3 Parts:

Part "A" Choice $5: Including ALL Men's Suits which have been selling for $8, $9 and $10, and which are still sold elsewhere for one-fourth above these prices.

Part "B" Choice $10: Consisting of ALL Men's Suits which have been selling for $12, $13, $14, $15 and $16, and which are still sold elsewhere for one-fourth above these prices.

Part "C" Choice $15: This is the Banner Offer of all! ANY Suit in the house, no matter what the marked price, for $15. No exceptions, conditions or restrictions.

To further facilitate choosing, we've placed each of the 3 parts on separate sections of the Big Clothing Floor, making it easy for every man to quickly find and select just the suit he is looking for—the very style, quality, color and price—each division being indicated by a big sign, while another sign displayed above each counter, tells the kinds of Suits to be found thereon. The old prices still remain on the tickets, but you now pay only $5, $10 or $15, according to which part of the stock you choose from.
